Huge British Liner Arrives In N. Y. Harbor

Evades German Submarines in Voyage
Across Atlantic

SECRECY RULES

Flees From Dangers of Bombs Threatening
Berth in Scotland

New York—(AP)—With the "red duster" union jack proudly flying at her mast, Britain's new $28,750,000 liner Queen Elizabeth—the largest, fastest ship afloat—arrived within the safety of New York harbor waters today at the end of her bold dash 3,000 miles across the Atlantic. Painted a drab gray, the 85,000-ton liner passed Ambrose lightship shortly after 8 a.m. (C.S.T.) and headed toward the narrows, past winter-deserted Coney island, with the skyline of New York 20 miles distant.

She missed the morning slack tide, however, and most likely will drop anchor near the old Quarantine station, Staten Island, before proceeding up the bay late this afternoon to her pier at Fifth street.

A war-time fugitive, fleeing the dangers of German bombing assaults in her Clyde river berth in Scotland, the Queen Elizabeth successfully evaded the threat of German undersea attack and triumphed in its risk of a mortal blow against British claims of supremacy of the sea.

"Dirty Gray Whale"

Planes flying out of New York first sighted the Queen "looking like a dirty gray whale" off Fire Island, cutting up a mile-long wake as her giant engines turned up apparently close to her top speed of more than 32 knots.

A few figures were seen on the day and from the planes there was no indication that the world's largest ship even had a name painted on her gray-smudged prows.

Not until a TWA plane made a second circle over the Queen Elizabeth did the ship even make her nationally known. On the second circle, crew members broke out the union jack and some of the crew waved.

Black smoke belched from the Queen Elizabeth's two slanted funnels as she suddenly straightened out from her previous zig-zag course and cut a direct line for New York harbor—apparently sure, now, that she was in safe waters.

Visibility Poor

Below the water-line, the ship showed dark red and along the water line there were patches of black under the gray paint, indicating her "war paint" had been hastily applied for the audacious voyage to this country.

Poor visibility that hampered the observations of passengers in the welcoming planes improved as the Queen Elizabeth neared the harbor, and brilliant sunshine poured through the broken clouds, speckling the waters and churning wake with gold and silver.

It was estimated, at that time, that the ship was making approximately 28 knots.

Meanwhile, preparations were made to greet the Queen Elizabeth at her new berth at Pier 90, at the foot of Fifth street, where two dredges have recently been deepening the north side of the slip for her huge bulk.

The newcomer will lie snugly in a $113,750,000 "Klondike" in the New York waterfront, alongside the $60,000,000 French liner Normandie and the Queen Elizabeth's sister ship, the $25,000,000 Queen Mary.

A police detail of 250 men was stationed in the pier vicinity, and not even newsmen or photographers were allowed to enter the pier shed.

GERMAN COMMENT

Berlin—(AP)—In jocular mood concerning the voyage to New York of the new British liner Queen Elizabeth, authorized German sources today commented:

"The stealthy trip into a United States harbor does not speak well for British confidence in victory."

They said, "first the British took gold over there, then apparently other treasures, and forgot to bring back certain historical documents. (Apparently a reference to a copy of England's Magna Charta, deposited in Washington.)"

"Now they must pay $10,000 a day docking charges. Why don't they leave the ship in British harbors if they are confident of victory?"

For that matter, they asked, "What is the Queen Elizabeth any good? It is not even finished. In fact, it is half a skeleton. Now, the Bremen—that was something!"

(They referred to the German liner Bremen's dash last fall from New York to Murmansk, Russia, and subsequent run home through the British blockade.)

Calumet County Board

In Appeal for Peace

Chilton, Wis.—(AP)—A resolution urging the nation and congress to keep this present out of foreign wars was adopted yesterday by the Calumet county board. There was no debate.

The board also adopted a resolution calling upon the surplus commodities corporation to include Wisconsin cheese among its purchases of surplus commodities.

Bob LaFollette Plays Lone Hand In National Race

Won't Support Either
Major Party Candidate,
Report at Capital

Washington—(AP)—Reliable sources disclosed today that Senator LaFollette (P-Wis.) has decided to play a lone hand in this year's elections.

With his own political career at stake, the sole representative of the Progressive party in the senate has adopted a "hands-off" attitude on the presidential race after actively supporting President Roosevelt in the 1932 and 1936 elections.

Friends of "Young Bob" pointed out that he not only has kept silent on the third term argument, but has made no definite announcement as to his own candidacy for reelection.

They said he would stay clear of both Democratic and Republican battles until after the major parties have selected presidential candidates. The Wisconsin senatorial primary will not be held until September.

Most capital politicians expect LaFollette to seek reelection under banners of the Progressive party despite the setback given his brother, former Governor Philip LaFollette, and other Wisconsin Progressives by the Republicans in 1938.

Fought 3rd Term for Cal

The LaFollette name has been in both Wisconsin and national politics for nearly 40 years. The late Senator LaFollette, known as "Fighting Bob," served 19 years in the senate until his death in 1925. His elder son and secretary succeeded to his office.

During Calvin Coolidge's administration "Young Bob" sponsored a senate resolution in 1928 criticizing third terms for presidents. It was adopted after bitter debate.

Senator Holt (D-W. Va.), who has been considering pressing an anti-third term resolution during the present session, said he was using the LaFollette resolution as his model.

LaFollette has told friends at the senate that he has had no part in any "draft Roosevelt" drive this winter. In 1936, on the other hand, he was chairman of the "Progressive National Committee Supporting Franklin D. Roosevelt for President."

Sweden Trying to End Russ-Finn War

Reported to be Seeking Armistice and Peace
Settlement

Stockholm—(AP)—Sweden is seeking to arrange an armistice in the Russian-Finnish war, usually reliable sources said today, adding that Russian peace terms recently have been rejected by Finland.

The exact nature of the terms is still the subject of speculation, but there were unconfirmed reports that Russia demanded surrender of the Karelian isthmus, Viipuri, Lake Ladoga and part of the far northern Petsamo area.

An armistice, it was said, would be followed by further efforts to arrange a peace settlement.

Helsinki, (AP)—The official Finnish press bureau tonight declared it believed Russia planned presentation of territorial demands "more far-reaching in character" than those rejected by Finland prior to the present war.

A statement to that effect was issued by the bureau as Stockholm reports said that Sweden was making a new effort to halt the war with an armistice.

Reliable sources in the Swedish capital said Russia's demands already had been made known to Finnish officials.

The Finnish press bureau statement declared:

"According to information in possession of the Finnish government, the Soviet government is believed to have planned presentation of demands to Finland more far-reaching in character than those presented last autumn."

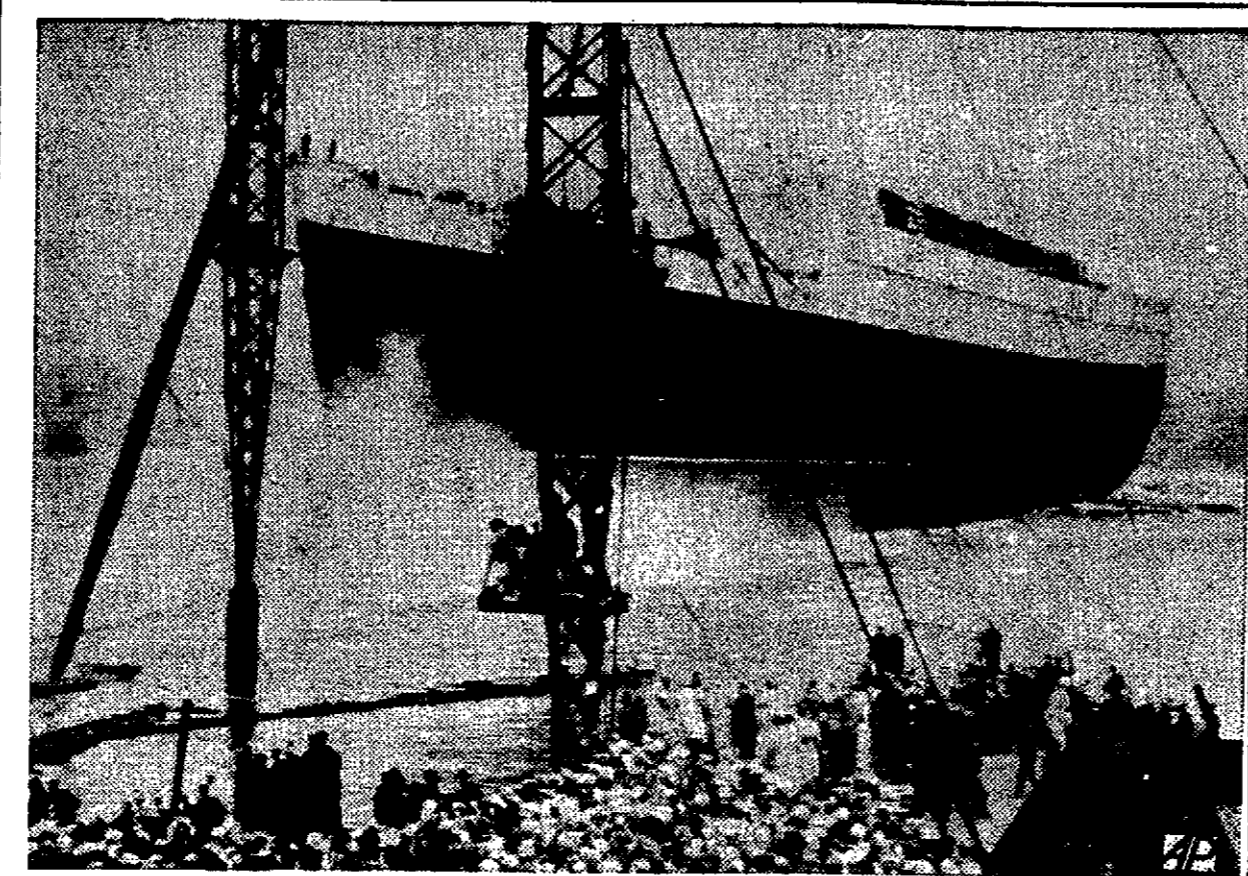

"Details, however, of these demands are lacking so far."

Elderly Woman Found Murdered in Ohio Home

Columbus, Ohio—(AP)—Nude except for one blood-spattered stocking and a shoe, Miss Alice Lauterbach, 76, was found slain today, victim of a sex-mad robber who stole the tiny savings she had accumulated from a monthly old age pension.

After beating the frail woman the slayer criminally assaulted her, Coroner Edward E. Smith reported, Miss Lauterbach, who lived alone, was beaten three years ago by a robber, who overlooked $50 in a metal box. Beside the woman's body today was the empty box. Detective Sergeant C. C. Cole said there was no indication how much loot was obtained.

'QUEEN ELIZABETH' SLIPS ACROSS ATLANTIC

The new 85,000-ton British liner Queen Elizabeth arrived in the United States today. It was announced in London that the world's largest vessel had left her fitting-out basin on Clydebank Feb. 26. The Queen Elizabeth is shown here as she was launched at Clydebank in September, 1938.

U. S. Census Director Orders Immediate Withdrawal of Charges Against Cobbler

Dismisses Charge
Of Manslaughter
In Traffic Deaths

Arthur Huss to be Sentenced for Reckless Driving in Fatal Accident

A first degree manslaughter charge against Arthur B. Huss, 23, lodged after the deaths of two women struck by his truck at Freedom last April 30, was dismissed by Judge Joseph R. McCarthy in circuit court this morning.

Huss, route 1, Kaukauna, was permitted to enter a plea of not guilty to the manslaughter charge because "without the evidence a conviction would be impossible." He amended his information to include the reckless driving charge which was transferred from municipal court.

The charge had been lodged against Huss after the accident but before the women died.

Victims of the accident were Mrs. John Garvey, route 2, Appleton, and Mrs. John G. Jensen, Little Chute. They were struck by Huss' truck as they and a third woman, Mrs. Zela Garvey, route 1, Kaukauna, who was injured, were walking along the road at Freedom early on the evening of April 30.

The manslaughter charge was made after an inquest jury found Huss was unfit to drive his machine at the time of the accident because he had been drinking.

6 More Italian Coal
Ships Taken to British Contraband Station

London—(AP)—Six more Italian coal ships were held at the contraband control station at the Downs today as Great Britain proceeded with her blockade against German coal exports despite Italian displeasure.

The cargoes of eight others, totaling about 100,000 tons, were ordered unloaded yesterday. Another was released because it sailed Mar. 1, before the blockade deadline.

The six ships escorted to the Downs last night were the Puzosoli, Ischia, Integritas, Pania, San Luigi and Semion.

Two Receive Suspended
Terms in Extortion Case

Janesville—(AP)—Suspended sentences in state institutions were ordered by Municipal Judge Ernest P. Agnew today for Mrs. Elizabeth Klemp, 42, and Lawrence Stockman, 33, both of Milton Junction, who were convicted of extortion by a jury. Mrs. Klemp was ordered to the state prison for women at Taycheedah for one to two years and Stockman to Waupun for a similar term. In both cases execution of sentences was ordered stayed and the defendants placed on probation to the state department of public welfare. They were ordered to make restitution of $40 alleged to have been obtained from a tavern-keeper on threats to have him prosecuted for selling beer to a minor girl.

Weather Helps as Spring Opening Is Launched in City

100 Appleton Stores Participating in Annual 3-Day Event

Appleton's spring opening thrived today in weather ideally suited for the selection of a new Easter bonnet.

A comforting sun shone out of a blue sky as about 100 Appleton stores this morning opened their annual 3-day display of the newest in a long line of spring merchandise. Were weather worked with a lever, it could not have been timed more perfectly to fit in with spring opening for March today outdid itself in trying to make people of Appleton and vicinity forget winter and think only of the new season.

Crowds were thick around store windows last night as the lights were flashed on to illuminate displays of new merchandise. One of the attractions was the posting of names in the store windows, each worth $1 in merchandise.

It was estimated by the committee from the retail division of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce that the stores are giving away more than $1,500 in merchandise in this special.

A contest is being sponsored by the retailers, with prizes of $15, $10, and $5 offered to persons writing the best essays on window displays. The letters must be postmarked not later than midnight Sunday and sent to the retail division of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce.

The crowd of shoppers in the business district increased during the day and was expected to reach a peak about mid-afternoon.

King Carol Pledges All
Resources to His Army

Bucharest—(AP)—King Carol II opened parliament today with a declaration that all the resources of Rumania would be thrown behind her army as a "supreme guarantee of our independence and of the integrity of our borders."

Disclosing that taxes would be materially increased to bear the cost of keeping 1,000,000 men under arms, the monarch said:

"I am sure my people will accept such sacrifices for the sake of the country and peace."

Betsey Roosevelt Is Given Divorce Decree

Los Angeles—(AP)—Betsey Cushing Roosevelt today was granted a divorce from James Roosevelt, son of the president.

The interlocutory decree was granted by Superior Judge Thomas C. Gould.

Youth Arrested on Charges
Of 'Suspicion of Intent' to Poison Father and Mother

Kenosha—(AP)—A strange story of how inside knowledge of Kenosha county officials frustrated the attempt of a 22-year-old youth to poison his parents was unfolded here today as authorities deliberated what action to take.

With enough plotting and counterplotting to satisfy the most avid reader of fiction, the story of the youth's plans and their failure, told by Sheriff Leo Schend, District Attorney John P. McEvoy and Deputy Sheriff Milton L. Violette, was substantially this:

The youth planned a week ago to get rid of his parents by poisoning them so that he could acquire the farm property. He broached the subject to the hired man and he thought, by use of threats, he had made the hired man a silent and active partner.

Instead, the hired man went to McEvoy. The district attorney, with the hired man's assistance, immediately laid plans to trap the youth. The latter, to carry out his plans, went to Waukegan, Ill., and attempted to purchase poison at four drug stores, being unsuccessful in each. He returned to Kenosha and made a purchase at a Kenosha drugstore. But the druggist, too, was in the counterplot. Instead of poison, he gave the youth some harmless crystals.

The hired man, Schend and McEvoy made a prearranged signal, the lowering of a shade, to indicate that the youth had placed the "poison" in drinks for his parents—in his mother's tea and his father's milk.

Last night the hired man lowered the shade. Schend and McEvoy, hidden across the street, broke in and took the milk and tea before the parents could drink it.

But the youth claimed he had lost his nerve at the last minute and did not put the "poison" in the beverages. He offered to drink both.

Services of a chemist were being drafted today to determine whether the beverages contained the harmless substance. The youth was held on "suspicion of intent to commit murder."

House Committee Urges Creation of 3-Man Labor Board

Former Judge Manton
Leaves to Enter U. S.
Prison in Pennsylvania

New York—(AP)—With tears in his eyes, Martin T. Manton, former presiding judge of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, today started on his way to the penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa., to begin a two-year sentence for selling justice.

The trip by automobile with United States Marshal Leo Lowenthal and Joseph Petrina, a deputy, started 18 minutes after he had walked into the federal court building and to Lowenthal's office, his face cast in its customary scowl.

Seven years ago Manton spoke at the cornerstone laying of the building—a jurist whose opinions were highly respected and whose successful career had been pointed out to aspiring young lawyers, for he had come to the bench when he was only 36.

Now he was going to Lewisburg where numerous men on whom he once passed judgment have paid their penalty for breaking the law.

The former jurist, who is approaching 60, was convicted last June 3. Federal Judge Calvin Chesnut of Maryland, who presided at the trial, said the case was without precedence in 150 years of American jurisprudence.

EDITOR DIES

New York—(AP)—Dr. John H. Finley, educator and editor emeritus of the New York Times, died in his sleep early today. Dr. Finley, who was 76, recently underwent an operation for hernia in the Columbia Presbyterian Medical center, but his rugged physique apparently brought about a quick recovery.

(Dr. Finley gave the Matriculation day address at Lawrence college in September of 1931 and participated in the dedication ceremonies of the first Institute of Paper Chemistry building.)

Would Have It Act
'Merely as Judge'
In Disputes

17 PROPOSALS

Wants Employer Free 'to Discuss Situations
With Workers'

Washington—(AP)—Prompt creation of a new three-man labor board to act "merely as a judge" in collective bargaining disputes topped a list of 17 amendments to the Wagner act recommended to congress today by a special house committee.

Freedom also for an employer "to discuss labor situations with his workers" within limitations was included in the changes proposed by Chairman Smith (D-Va.) of an investigating committee. The committee majority advocated that the present board, headed by J. Warren Madden, be tossed out of office at this session.

Smith said his amendments represented "imperative things that need immediate attention." Aligned with him were Representatives Halleck (R-Ind.) and Routhon (R-Ohio).

The minority, Representatives Healey (D-Mass.) and Murdock (D-Utah), protested against the amendments as "emasculatory" and threatening to "the principles, purposes and objectives of the act."

Healey and Murdock said the changes "propose to sacrifice vital rights of labor."

Favors Administrator

In proposing to separate judicial and prosecuting functions, the majority suggested that an administrator, to be appointed by the president and to have no connection with the board, should prosecute complaints against employers.

This amendment apparently was based on charges that in some cases the board had acted as judge, jury and prosecutor.

One amendment would forbid the pay roll reinstatement of any employee who had engaged in wilful violence during a labor disturbance.

The suggested changes, Smith said, are not intended to affect the fundamental principle of collective bargaining in the Wagner act but, he said, would define the work of the new administrative body more clearly and eliminate cause of some of the dissatisfaction expressed about the present board.

Board members now are Chairman Madden, Edwin S. Smith and William M. Leiserson. Madden and Smith have been the particular targets of criticism in the course of the Smith committee's hearings since last September.

Proposed Changes

The committee's amendments would:

1. Abolish the present board and create a new one of three members, with not more than two belonging to the same political party.

2. Separate the prosecuting and judicial functions of the board and create a new office of administrator to handle many of the board's present functions.

3. Permit the board to function only as a judge, with the exception that it would continue to have the power to order a collective bargaining election.

4. Make mandatory the issuance of subpoenas for appearances at hearings upon request either of an employer, worker or union.

5. Permit court review of board decisions in representation cases.

6. Forbid the board to initiate determination of collective bargaining units; only the employer or employees could request that action.

Limited Elections

7. Once an election is held, forbid other elections in the same plant for one year.

8. Relax present prohibitions, to permit an employer to discuss labor situations with his workers, providing that discussion did not include matters of internal union affairs.

Testifies $57,500 Per Year Paid to 'the Law'
In Baseball Lottery

Detroit—(AP)—John Sidick, who identified himself as a former partner in a $1,000,000-a-year baseball lottery, testified in circuit court today that since 1935, approximately $57,500 a year was paid to "the law."

He appeared as a prosecution witness in the examination of Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea of Wayne county (Detroit) and others accused of conspiring to protect and operate the pool. Prior to 1935, Sidick said, the "Purple gang," Detroit mob of racketeers and gamblers, received the protection money.

Sidick at first refused to testify when he was asked what disposition was made of money listed in the records of the lottery as "operating expenses."

Sidick said he never asked and never was told exactly who received the protection payments. McCrea, former Detroit Police Superintendent Fred W. Pridemore, four suspended detectives and others are being examined on the gambling conspiracy charge.

Hatch Sees 'Good Chance' His Plan to Broaden Anti-Politics Law May be Shelved This Term

Washington—(AP)—Senator Hatch (D-N. M.), author of legislation to broaden the anti-politics law which bears his name, conceded today that "there is a good chance" the expansion bill might be pigeonholed for this session.

Opponents of the broadening proposal by which Hatch would extend to state employees drawing some federal pay the prohibitions against political activity now imposed on federal employees, claimed that they had a 50-50 chance of returning it to the elections committee for "further study."

Such a maneuver, if successful, would tie up the legislation in committee for the rest of the session.

Before considering this crucial motion, however, the senate reconsidered and by a record vote reversed its standing vote of yesterday on an amendment by Senator Danaher (R-Conn.) to give state-federal employees accused of illegal political activity the right of direct appeal to the federal courts. The vote in favor of granting this right was 48 to 36.

The Danaher amendment would not affect the Hatch anti-politics law already on the books but would modify the broadening legislation.

Demand Record Vote

Proponents of the Danaher amendment demanded a record vote be taken today after the rejection was effected yesterday by a standing vote.

Opponents of the legislation broadening the Hatch act failed by only a narrow margin late yesterday to put across an amendment by Senator Miller (D-Ark.) which would have wiped out some existing restrictions against "voluntary" political activity by federal employees.

Democratic ranks were split by the 44 to 41 vote, even after Senate Leader Barkley (D-Ky.) argued that an affirmative vote would hurt his party's chances in the November election.

Barkley said the tally clearly indicated approval today for the legislation by Senator Hatch (D-N. M.) extending the ban on political activity to about 250,000 state workers paid in part by federal funds.

The opponents, headed by Senators Minton (D-Ind.) and Lucas (D-Ill.), decided to ask first that the Turn to page 14 col. 6

Drunken Driver Pays Fine of $50

Paul Apitz, Route 1, Menasha, Arrested at Kaukauna

Kaukauna—Paul Apitz, route 1, Menasha, pleaded guilty of drunken driving and was fined $50 and costs under both the city and state laws with an 8-day suspension of his driver's license.

Arrested about 7:45 Wednesday night by Kaukauna police who followed him from the north to the south side and made the arrest at Main and Second streets.

Bark on the side of Apitz' car and a laceration on the head of his son, Frederick, 4, led police to believe Apitz was in an accident before he was arrested. A check of trucks carrying pulp logs revealed that a truck which was on the Green Bay road about the time Apitz was driving towards Kaukauna was slightly damaged en route.

Arthur Bowker, Menominee, Mich., the driver, did not remember being struck on the road, police said.

$10,000 Bond Ordered
For Safe Theft Suspect

Port Washington, Wis.—(AP)—Earl Sears, 42, of Gresham, Wis., was ordered held under $10,000 bond for preliminary hearing when arraigned before Justice Harold Hughes here yesterday on a charge of stealing a safe containing $1,800 from the home of Leo Weiler, Ozaukee county farmer and tavernkeeper.

Sheriff Ben Runkel said he hoped to bring Clarence Usiak, 38, Pulaski, to Port Washington to face a similar charge if he could obtain Usiak's release from custody of Shawano county officials. Usiak was held in Shawano on a charge of safe burglary there. Sears was out on bond in connection with the Shawano burglary when arrested by Port Washington officials.

Cheese Factory Worker
Electrocuted Victim

Wausau, Wis.—(AP)—Jerry De Groot, 26, workman in a cheese factory, was electrocuted yesterday when a machine in the plant was short circuited. Sheriff Arthur Woull and Fire Chief Otto Hackbarth of Marinette drove to Wausau with a pulmotor in a vain effort to save De Groot.

Welles Confers With Daladier

Also Calls on President
Lebrun on Fact-Finding Mission

Paris—(AP)—President Roosevelt's fact-finding emissary, Sumner Welles, was closeted for an hour and forty minutes today with French Premier Daladier who has vowed to crush the present German regime.

Plunging into a crowded three-day schedule for his Paris visit, the Undersecretary of state called first on President Albert Lebrun before meeting the premier at his war office headquarters.

Welles already had surveyed the German and Italian attitudes toward the present war in visits to Berlin and Rome. His next stop will be London after talking with French chiefs as well as the Polish government-in-exile in France.

President Lebrun received the American envoy at the Elysee palace soon after he alighted from a train which brought him overnight from Switzerland.

A company of the Republican guard stood smartly to attention as the automobile bearing Roosevelt's emissary rolled into the courtyard. Welles immediately entered Lebrun's office for a ceremonial visit before going to the war ministry to see Premier Daladier.

Roach Asks Drive Against Gambling In Resort Regions

Says Tourists Complain Of 'Gyp' Game in Northern Wisconsin

Antigo—John W. Roach, beverage tax division chief, urged elimination of gambling syndicates from summer resort areas of the state in a talk today before the Langlade county tavern league.

Roach asserted complaints of "gyp" gambling activities had been made "by residents from the southern part of the state who spend their vacations in northern Wisconsin, and also by tourists who visit this state."

He contended such activities were a blemish on the reputation of the entire state and should be eradicated.

"I know that it is the honest desire of most tavernkeepers to operate their business in a clean, ethical and wholesome atmosphere, but, unfortunately, the licensing boards of some cities, towns and villages frequently drop the barrier with a consequent lowering of standards for the taverns in the area," he said.

"Immediately certain unscrupulous tavern operators worm their way into the entire municipality," Roach declared, a concentrated drive should be launched "to eliminate the dumps and dives" and pledged support of State Treasurer John M. Smith and the beverage tax division to members of the liquor and beer industry who seek to improve conditions.

"Cooperation between the state and the legitimate industry will enable us to reach our goal of making the taverns in Wisconsin the finest in the nation," he said.

Former Reformatory Inmate Held at Duluth

Duluth, Minn.—(7)—Sheriffs of three Minnesota counties, Sam Owens, St. Louis, William Crisp, Grand Rapids, and Arthur McIntee, St. Cloud, said today they were seeking to piece together suspected criminal operations of Stanley Zajac, 24, arrested here March 1 for attempted attempt to rob a filling station.

Zajac was released from the reformatory at Green Bay, Wis. last December. The sheriffs questioned him about a series of crimes in this area and said they expected Wisconsin officers to come here in a similar investigation.

RAN SHIPMENTS

Basel, Switzerland—(7)—The last of thousands of small mail packages of foodstuffs marked "sample, no value," or "gift," passed through Basel to Germany last night. Further shipments have been banned by the Swiss government, because of the proportions to which the traffic grew.

Most of the packages weighed close to the limit of a pound and a half.

Prelates, Priests and City Officials at Enthronement Of Archbishop in Chicago

Chicago—(7)—Smilingly waving his benediction to massed onlookers, a former Nashville, Tenn., altar boy, today in a solemn procession to Holy Name cathedral today for enthronement as ruler of the largest Roman Catholic archdiocese in the United States.

A colorful throng of prelates and clergymen, dressed in ritual garb, preceded Archbishop Samuel Alphonse Stritch into the grey gothic portals of the historic cathedral.

Thronged about the church on Chicago's near north side were thousands of dignitaries and common folk. Up front was the city council, Mayor Edward J. Kelly, State's Attorney Douglas J. Courtney, United States District Attorney William J. Campbell and others high in the community's civic and political life.

Areas about the cathedral were packed with spectators eager to see one of the greatest assemblages of religious dignitaries since the international Eucharistic congress here in 1926.

The 52-year-old archbishop, who made a triumphal entry to his see yesterday coming from Milwaukee—was second from the last in the procession of 1,000 clergymen, including more than 100 archbishops, bishops and abbots. Behind him was the Most Rev. Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, the apostolic administrator to the United States and officiating prelate at the enthronement.

White and gold were the dominant colors of Archbishop Stritch's and the others' vestments. The hues gleamed against a background of ecclesiastical purple, the deep red of the hierarchy's attire.

As he walked slowly behind his elaborate escort, the archbishop marked each step with his rich gold crozier, the pastoral staff significant of the office that made him shepherd of a flock of 1,400,000 men, women and children.

With his free hand, he saluted the crowds with the sign of the cross, his benediction.

BIOFF SAYS ARREST WAS SURPRISE

William Bloff (left), motion picture labor leader, testified in Chicago that his arrest in Los Angeles last November on an 18-year-old Chicago conviction for pandering was the "biggest surprise of my life." Bloff is shown being questioned by his attorney, Abe Marovitz, in his hearing on a petition for a habeas corpus writ to free him from serving the balance of a six-months term. Bloff said he served "six or ten days."

British Action in Shutting Off Italy's Coal Supply Looks Like Move for Showdown With Il Duce

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

New York—(7)—Britain's bold action in cutting Italy off from vital German coal supplies looks like an effort on the part of the Anglo-French allies to take the independent Mussolini down a peg or two and curb his ambitions.

That naturally represents a dangerous experiment with high-explosive—for Il Duce is all of that—but the allies have bided their time until they feel that they are now operating from a secure position.

Of course, it's always possible cynical observers are right in suggesting that the whole Anglo-Italian drama is a put-up job. The idea of such a stunt would be to give Italy a chance to cooperate with the allies, under the guise of unescapable duress, without moving Herr Hitler to violent anger against his partner (or should we say "former partner") in the Rome-Berlin axis.

Looks Like Real Thing

Still, that's rather an extreme suspicion. While Europe is as full of hocus-pocus these days as a three-card Monte game, I think we are entitled to accept the view that the scrap is the real thing.

There have been many indications that the Anglo-French brotherhood (and especially England) want amicable relations with Mussolini. They undoubtedly wish to keep him out of Hitler's camp and at least in a state of non-belligerence which will suit their war plans. The recent operations of the allies and Il Duce in the Balkans have been carried out without a visible ripple.

At the same time there are some old scores to be settled. And there are some mean problems of great magnitude hanging fire. It is a fair bet that the allies are feeling out the position to see if the moment isn't ripe for a show-down with Mussolini. The object would be a firm but sweeping adjustment of differences without resort to arms.

Steps on Allies' Toes

The fascist chieftain has put his whole weight on the toes of England and France with his hob-nail boots many times since the historic moment in 1935 when he started out to carve his initials on the ancient throne of the Lion of Judah in Ethiopia. Mussolini has claimed that he was being pushed about.

The conquest of Ethiopia was only one of many things which put the Italian premier on the bad books of the allies. He quit the League of Nations. He intervened in the Spanish civil war with force. He joined hands with Hitler in the Rome-Berlin axis.

He demanded a greater share of control of the Mediterranean and the Suez canal. He made territorial demands on France in fiery language. The allies say he stirred up trouble among their Arab peoples. He annexed Albania.

Up to this juncture neither England nor France has been in position to force the issue on any of these far reaching problems. Herr Hitler has occupied most of their waking hours, and their dreams as well.

The present, however, would seem from their viewpoint to be a good time for an understanding. Certainly they don't want to come up against a peace conference unexpectedly one of these days and have the Italian claims and policies hanging fire.

Would Thresh It Out

England and France now are fairly well set for their war with Germany, or anybody else who wants a slice of it. They not only have their armies in France (handy to the Italian border), but they have a great concentration of troops in the Mediterranean area and the Near East. What with the war on land state at the moment they never will be in better shape to thresh things out with Mussolini.

But that isn't all by a long shot. Italy has depended upon Germany for 60 per cent of her coal, and upon England for the rest. With the German supplies severed by the British seizures, and the English shipment suspended, the Italians face a grave crisis, since there are no alternative markets handy.

Italian industries, public services and home fires all are dependent on this coal. By the same token, the navy cannot function properly if the industries and naval shipyards are at a standstill. Transportation of troops, either by coal drawn trains in Italy or by coal-driven steamers, would be difficult.

This probably appears to the allies like a neat time to call for a showdown, especially since they believe the Italian public is dead against Hitlerism and would be opposed to their leader throwing in his lot with Germany against England and France. As already pointed out, however, the allies aren't looking for an armed clash with Il Duce and he doesn't want any war with them.

District V. F. W. Conference to be Held in Appleton

300 Expected; Harvey Pierre Post Will be Host To Weekend Parley

The Harvey Pierre post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and auxiliary will be hosts to the eighth district V. F. W. conference Saturday and Sunday in Appleton. The district comprises the counties of the northeastern section of the state. About 300 men and women are expected to attend the meetings.

In connection with the conference, a dinner meeting of the state department council of administration, composed of state officers and a representative of each district, will be held at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the Conway hotel. Business discussion will follow the dinner.

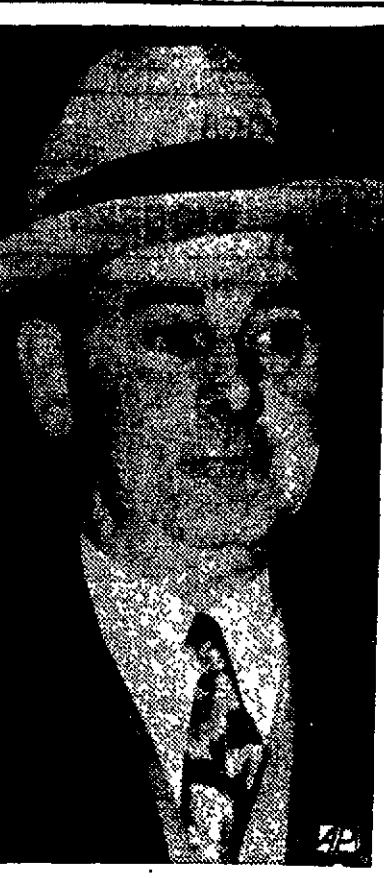

A school of instruction for adjutants and quartermasters will be held from 10 o'clock Sunday morning until noon in the city hall. Department Adjutant E. J. Schmidt of Manitowoc will preside.

The V. F. W. members will open the Sunday afternoon session at 1:30 in city hall, with ritualistic drill team competition followed by business discussion. At the same time, the auxiliaries will assemble at Eagles hall. The conference banquet will be held at 6 o'clock that evening in Eagles hall.

Ernest H. Mueller, commander of the Harvey Pierre post, is men's chairman for the conference and Mrs. Carl Rehfeldt, president of the auxiliary, heads the women's committee.

J. F. Macco of Green Bay, eighth district commander, will preside at the meeting for men and Mrs. Rose Brown, district president of the auxiliary, will have charge of the ladies session.

Members of the Appleton post said today that Macco probably will act as toastmaster at the Sunday evening banquet and that city, district, and state V. F. W. officials will be introduced.

SURRENDERS

Dewey Outlines Farm Program

Declares New Deal Has Not 'Scratched Surface' of Problem

Lincoln, Neb.—(7)—Thomas E. Dewey, New York district attorney and candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, offered today a "partial" eight-point program for achieving agricultural prosperity.

Principal speaker at a Nebraska Republican founders' day meeting last night which party officials estimated attracted 7,500 listeners, Dewey asserted the New Deal has not "scratched the surface" of the farm problem, then disclosed his own "partial" eight-point agricultural program. It would:

1. Establish a fair parity between agricultural and industrial prices.
2. Provide government crop insurance at reasonable levels.
3. Adopt a direct program of soil conservation.
4. Convert sub-marginal land to more economical uses.
5. Extend the farm cooperative movement.
6. Continue and extend the program for marketing agreements.
7. Preserve the American market for American agriculture.
8. Broaden research in the use of agricultural products.

Regarding the last point, he declared research in the farm fields "has as yet been scarcely touched."

"Government must first seek the advice of farmers rather than the advice of cloistered theorists," he declared.

Badger Supporters To Meet With Dewey

Milwaukee—(7)—Wisconsin's slate of 24 delegate candidates pledged to support Thomas E. Dewey for the Republican presidential nomination left for Chicago today to meet and confer with Dewey, who is en route back to New York from a speaking engagement at Lincoln, Neb.

The candidates were headed by Edward A. Bacon, president of the Dewey-for-President club of Wisconsin.

In addition to conferring with the New York district attorney, the group also planned to meet with Illinois leaders in the Dewey campaign.

Before his departure Bacon announced that Col. Theodore Roosevelt Jr., eldest son of the late president, would speak at Superior, Wis., on March 13 in support of Dewey's candidacy.

Slayer Can't Share In Victim's Estate

Milwaukee—(7)—Circuit Judge Charles L. Aarons ruled that "a murderer can acquire no interest in the estate of his victim" in denying yesterday the claim of Oswald Wolf to real estate jointly owned by his late wife, Elsie.

Wolf is serving a life term in the state prison at Waupun for the hammer slaying of his wife in their home here April 9, 1938. He petitioned county court recently asking termination of his wife's joint interest in two lots and that he be given a certificate of survivorship.

Wolf's 15-year-old son, Alfred, then instituted action in circuit court asking that his father's right to the real estate be declared void because of the slaying. The court overruled the prisoner's demurrer.

Relieves His Stomach Ulcer Pains

By a simple home treatment, Mr. M. H. Ramstead, a former Wisconsin business man, quickly relieved himself of stomach ulcer pains, gas, pains, indigestion and constipation of many years standing. Since then he has been in the best of health and eats anything he wants. Mr. Ramstead, Dept. 32, Box 1925, Milwaukee, Wis., is so grateful for his relief that he wants every sufferer to try this treatment without cost, name and address and he will send you a free trial treatment and tell you of his experience. State Intends to Force Code Trades to Pay License Fees

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—There will be no capitulation to the realtors who have failed to pay their license fees under the new fair trade practices code law, state code administrators asserted today, as they added that they intend to enforce the 1939 statute to the letter.

Significantly, that law includes a provision allowing the closing up of the shops of those tradesmen who fail to secure a license, and pay the requisite fees.

Fred M. Wylie, counsel for W. T. Marriott, head of the code division of the state department of agriculture and markets, reported that "I cannot predict what action we will take, but you can be assured that we intend to enforce the law as it was written."

In a number of Wisconsin localities suspension of licensing was ordered recently when it was found that large numbers of cleaners and dyers and barbers had failed to pay their assessments.

Included were the barbers of Green Bay and the cleaners and dyers of Appleton.

Both Marriott and Wylie, however, appeared confident that all fees would be collected ultimately without delay.

"Then it must act on that advice," he emphasized that no single scheme "will solve the farm problem overnight," declaring agricultural prosperity can come only through a farm program fitting into a national plan to "achieve health, vitality and balance in our entire economy."

out undue controversy. Some of the delays have been caused, they explained, because under previous code laws the state department sent out collectors to collect the fees. Many tradesmen are therefore unaccustomed to sending their checks to Madison unsolicited, it was said. Both discounted the threat of a suit to halt enforcement of the code law which has been announced by a group of Milwaukee anti-code tradesmen.

Wylie explained that under the code law the division is supported exclusively by fee payments. Unless fees are paid promptly, enforcement will be impossible, since the division does not intend to use fees contributed by one trade to police others.

It has been pointed out that the new code law differs fundamentally from previous enactments in the licensing provision. In the same manner as employed by other state regulatory departments, the division is now empowered to shut the doors of any code-covered establishment which does not pay its assessment. If there is any concerted opposition to payment, that drastic section of the law may have to be employed, it was indicated.

Low-Cost Housing Project Is Recent Development in City; Homes Modern in Appearance

BY DON ANDERSON

One of the most interesting developments in Appleton's building industry is the covey of trim, neat low-cost houses which August Laabs and Sons have constructed in the Kenilworth avenue and Amelia street area in the town of Grand Chute.

Located off from any heavily traveled streets, the small homes are modern in appearance, the rooms refreshingly decorated, yet their cost is well below the average new residence.

In constructing 20 of these dwellings in the town of Grand Chute and four across the Fox river in the town of Menasha, the aim was to interest the man of modest income, who wants his own home but is unable to make large payments over an extended period. Today, all the dwellings are occupied. One is now in the process of construction.

Although the homes are built by the same firm and most of them are within the same neighborhood, a successful attempt has been made to avoid the dull, standardized scene presented, for example, in a row of "company" houses. Variation in color, both in the siding and shutters, and in design provides relief from tiresome uniformity.

Paper and woolen mill workers, bakers, and skilled workmen are among the inhabitants of these new homes. They make a down payment and the remainder is paid off in monthly installments.

Attracts Young People

Started three years ago, the project has attracted young people, for the most part. Thus the average home is occupied by the parents and one or two children.

A typical home in this group has five rooms, living room, kitchen, two bedrooms, and a utility room, in which a walled-in toilet is located. There is storage room in the attic.

It is claimed that the total yearly cost for taxes and fuel in these homes is between $55 and $60. Most of them are equipped with oil-burning stoves. Many of the kitchens have electric ranges.

The builders have made use of an insulating material for the walls and ceilings of some of the homes, giving them a paneled effect. The material is one-half inch thick, washable and paintable. Floors are hardwood.

Kitchens are provided with spacious cabinets. Inlaid linoleum covers the working area of the cabinets and the kitchen floors. Walls are filled with shavings for insulation. Each house has a septic tank and there is a well for every two homes.

SMALL INCOME FAMILIES INHABIT THESE NEW HOMES

The top picture shows a row of five of the low-cost houses in a group of 20 that have been built in the town of Grand Chute. Reading from the left, the homes are gray, green, white, gray, and white in color, with contrasting shutters. A closeup of one of the homes is shown in the inset photograph. The bottom photo shows the kitchen of one of the homes, with large, built-in cabinets and an electric range. Most of the houses are five rooms, without basements. (Post-Crescent Photo)

House Numbering Plan Is Approved At Clintonville

Council Limits Cost to $150 and Orders Use Of Local Labor

Clintonville — At the March meeting of the city council it was voted to start a house numbering project, provided that it would not cost over $150 and that local labor be used.

A resolution was adopted by the aldermen whereby taxpayers may have until July 1 to pay their taxes without interest or penalty if they sign an affidavit showing inability to pay by March 15. The time for payment of taxes had previously been extended from Feb. 1 to March 15, without penalty.

The petition for a street light on McKinley avenue was referred to the water and light commission. A beverage operator's license was granted to Louis Fandry. The remainder of the session was devoted to hearing monthly reports of the police department, the milk inspector and to the reading and allowing of monthly bills.

Priscilla club of the Congregational church was entertained Tuesday evening by Mrs. Roy Barker at her home on N. Main street. The Bible lesson was in charge of Mrs. Margaret Moriarty and a talk on the history of Mormonism was given by Miss Lillian Schunk. The evening closed with the serving of a lunch by the hostess. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Edwin Gavhardt on F. Madison street.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hansen Tuesday evening at their home on route 2 east of Clintonville.

Raymond Patterson, a junior at the University of Wisconsin, has been elected to membership in Pi Tau Sigma, an honorary mechanical engineering fraternity. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Patterson of this city.

Tells of Florida Trip

Reuben Lendved, past president of the Clintonville Lions club, talked to the members Tuesday evening on his trip to Florida from where he and Mrs. Lendved returned last week. They spent most of their time in the vicinity of Tampa and also visited the winter quarters of Ringling brothers' circus at Sarasota.

During the business session there was a discussion of matters pertaining to the Home Show which the Lions will sponsor at the armory on March 27 and 28. Island Peterson, manager of the Fullerton Lumber company, was a guest of the club. Mr. Peterson recently came to this city from Waupaca after the Fullerton company purchased the Service Lumber company from the Kratz brothers.

Mrs. Sylvia Kesting attended the funeral of Charles H. Kesting, 85, at Appleton Wednesday. The deceased was the father of the late Leo Kesting of this city.

Mrs. Raymond Heil was honored at a party given Wednesday afternoon by relatives at the home of her mother, Mrs. William Stuchman on Eighth street. A 1 o'clock luncheon was served to 16 guests after which bridge and other games were played. High honors at contract went to Mrs. Henry Korh and Mrs. Ben Rathke, while Mrs. Elder Beal vernitz won the prize at Chinese.

Sawmill Burns

Near Embarrass

Loss Between $4,000 and $5,000; Structure To Be Rebuilt

Clintonville — A loss of between $4,000 and $5,000 resulted when the George Hill sawmill five miles east of Embarrass burned to the ground early Wednesday morning. The buildings were in flames when the fire was discovered about 3 o'clock by John Hamilton, a neighbor. Mr. Hill, the proprietor, lives about a mile from the mill. Two buildings of 30 by 100 feet and 16 by 50 feet as well as all machinery and some logs and lumber were destroyed. The fire had apparently started near the boiler room. There is no insurance but Mr. Hill plans to rebuild as soon as possible. Six men were now employed at the mill, which did custom sawing. A number of truck drivers were indirectly employed through the business. The Clintonville rural fire department was called, but the fire was beyond control. A quantity of logs and lumber were saved.

Vandals recently broke into the clubhouse at Clintonville Riverside Golf club and did considerable mischief. A large number of golf clubs were removed from their cases and strewn about the floor. A case of paper toweling was opened and thrown about and several windows were broken. A complete checkup has not been made to determine whether any golf clubs were stolen. The vandalism was discovered by E. E. Miller, president of the club when he drove out to the clubhouse this week to look around.

You can save yourself the trouble of ironing curtains if you hang them on the rods while they're wet. Slip curtain rods in the bottom hems as a weight and they'll dry straight.

Gifts were presented to Mrs. Heil. Mrs. Ida Geth of Langenburg, Saskatchewan, Canada is spending the winter months at the homes of her daughters Mrs. C. C. Mack in this city and Mrs. John John Kriewaldt at Shawano.

The circulation department of the Appleton Post-Crescent is represented in Clintonville by Harry Bohr, 48 Main street. Orders for subscriptions may be left with him. Subscribers missed by carriers should call Mr. Bohr telephone 571, before 7 p. m.

Mrs. Augusta Klemm Dies at Clintonville

Home at Age of 90

Clintonville — Mrs. Augusta Klemm, 90, died at 8:30 Tuesday evening at her home on Eighth place in Clintonville after an illness of several weeks.

Born in Germany Dec. 17, 1849, she had lived on a farm near Nicholson in the town of Bear Creek for many years before coming to this city 12 years ago. Mr. Klemm died more than 20 years ago.

Survivors are two sons and five daughters. Robert Klemm of Burnsville, Adolph Klemm and Mrs. Bertha Miller of Wausau, Mrs. Clara Heinrich of Antio, Mrs. Herman Hall of Graham, Mrs. Herman Koenig of Plainfield, Mass., and Miss Frieda Klemm of this city, 37 grandchildren, 36 great-grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

The body is at the Eberhardt funeral home where services will take place at 1:30 Saturday afternoon. Services at St. Martin Lutheran church at 2 o'clock will be conducted by the Rev. W. O. Speckhard of this city and by the Rev. Richard Malotky of Trinity Lutheran church at Nicholson, of which the deceased was a member for many years. Burial will take place in the parish cemetery at Nicholson.

Funeral services for Mrs. Fred Gesert, 65, will be conducted at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Eberhardt chapel by the Rev. E. C. Westhouse of this city, after which the funeral cortege will motor to Plymouth. Services will take place there at 1:30 Saturday afternoon at the Gesert funeral home and burial will be made in the Town Line cemetery near Plymouth.

Mrs. Gesert died Tuesday evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Martin Nelson in this city. A lifelong resident of Sheboygan county.

Subcommittee Favors Hull Dairy Measure

Washington—The dairy products stabilization and parity bill introduced by Congressman Merlon Hull, Black River Falls Progressive last May, has just been passed by the subcommittee to the full house agriculture committee where Hull expects a "favorable report."

Agriculture committee Chairman Marvin Jones, Texas Democrat, assures Hull that he will support the bill which includes milk in the list of basic commodities thus providing for parity payments to dairy farmers.

Although no specific recommendation was made to the agriculture committee the majority of the subcommittee favors the plan. Congressman Reid F. Murray, Waupaca Republican and member of the subcommittee, reports. The full committee is scheduled to hold hearings on the bill, and prompt consideration by the house is expected.

Students Make Carving Of Honor Society Pin

A large copy of the National Honor society pin has been carved out of wood by Harry Cameron manual arts instructor at Appleton High school with the assistance of some of his students. The burning torch and the letters "S. C. L." and "S." standing for scholarship, character leadership and service are carved in relief. The large duplicate will be used in the initiation ceremony in spring. Students who helped with the carving are Kenneth Peters and Norman Bauhs.

A tree is scheduled to hold hearings on the bill, and prompt consideration by the house is expected.

State Prison at Waupun Is Lauded For Trades Work

Wisconsin Institution One Of Best Regulated in Nation, Club Told

Kaukauna—The state prison at Waupun was described as one of the best regulated in the nation yesterday before Kaukauna Rotarians at Hotel Kaukauna by A. E. McArthur, who has been training guards there and at the state reformatory. McArthur travels widely training industrial foremen and supervisors.

The Wisconsin institution is noted for its educational system, with 28 trades being taught. Prisoners are fed for 19 cents a day, with the inmates producing much of their own food. The Waupun dairy is considered one of the three most modern in the state.

Entering convicts start as first class inmates, with certain privileges which may be taken away as black marks for misconduct are chalked up against them. McArthur explained.

A convict out on parole should be considered in the same light as a discharged prisoner, the speaker stated. In the former case the convict has earned his liberty as much as one who had served his full sentence.

Guard Selection

McArthur described the methods used in selecting and training guards. It is the guard who is the go-between for prisoners and the state, and it is the guard who is the main factor in the rehabilitation of the prisoners. An age between 25 and 40, industrial or army service, some education and sound physical condition are some of the requirements. A guard is on probation 6 months before he may be accepted.

The aim of prisons is to rehabilitate their inmates—to send them out to stay out. In this regard Wisconsin has been more successful than the average institution. Nationally 55 per cent of prisoners released find their way back; in Wisconsin only 45 per cent return, McArthur concluded.

Kaukauna—Leo King crashed out a 621 series, including a high game of 248, at Scheil alleys last night to lead Commercial league keglers. King's hitting enabled the fast climbing Kaukauna Machines to win three from Thilmans' and tie for second place, with Joe Scherer's 564 pacing the losers.

The Mellow Brews swept their series from the top Hass Grocers, Robert Martzahl leading the Brews on 566 and Don Kobs the Grocers on 542. Utility bowlers remained in second place by winning three from Ideal Cafe, Carl Ploetz leading with 591 and H. Gerend totaling 453 for the Ideal. Berens won the odd game from Jirikowics, as N. Manley hit 507 for the winners and W. Winge 573 for Jirikowics.

MINOR COLLISION

Kaukauna—Fenders and bumpers of two cars were damaged last night in a minor collision at the corner of Lawe street and Wisconsin avenue. Drivers of the vehicles were Dr. John Hogan, 200 Lawe street, Kaukauna, and Donald Hobbins, 1303 W. Prospect street, Appleton.

The Kaukauna office of the Appleton Post-Crescent is located in the Jules Mertes barbershop on Wisconsin avenue. William Dowling is the correspondent in charge and the telephone number is 107. Subscribers may call this number until 6:30 in the evening if their papers were not delivered.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those grating, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking green acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with stinging and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisons, waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Social Union Names Three Delegates to District Conference

Kaukauna—Mrs. George Emmertman, Mrs. Harry Conkey and Mrs. L. F. Green were named delegates to a Green Bay district conference March 28 at Social Union of Brookmaw Memorial Methodist church met yesterday at Epworth house. Hostesses at the meeting were Mrs. August Weirauch, chairman, Mrs. L. F. Green, Mrs. P. N. Cobleigh, Mrs. J. E. Hamilton, Mrs. Arthur Tate and Mrs. Marvin Busse.

Fraternal Order of Eagles entered a bowling team composed of Jake Rink, Ray Dieckrick, Howard Paschen, Woodrow Alger and Toby Keinenen in the April state Eagles tournament at Manitowoc, as the group met last night at Odd Fellows hall. The auditor's report was approved and plans for an initiation April 3 made.

Mrs. Jacob Rogenfuss, Mrs. Walter Martzahl, Mrs. E. G. Driessen and Mrs. F. Mocco received card prizes as W. C. O. F. St. Ann's court No. 226 met Tuesday evening at the church hall. Mrs. Oliver Miller was named recording secretary in place of Mrs. Joseph Muthig, who had resigned.

Tickets have been placed on sale for the St. Patrick's supper to be served Sunday evening, March 17, at the St. Mary church hall, with the ladies of the parish sponsoring the affair. Tickets to the supper admit the holders to card games afterwards.

The Kaukauna winner is eligible to compete in the state contest at Milwaukee in July.

Krumm Says Team Must Improve to Stay in Tourney

Coach Terms Showing Against Menasha One Of Season's Worst

Kaukauna—Kaukauna High school cagers squeezed by their first game at the Menasha regional tournament last night, but must show a sharp reversal of form to have a chance against the DePere Redbirds tomorrow night. This was the opinion of Coach Guy Krumm as the squad returned last night.

In defeating Menasha the Kaws showed none of the form which characterized wins over top Northern conference teams in the latter part of the season. The exhibition was one of the worst of the season, Krumm said.

DePere Dangerous

Krumm spoke of DePere, which won its way into the semi-finals by defeating Kimberly, as a smooth passing team which will make trouble for anyone. The Kaws will have an added incentive Friday evening, for most of the DePere cagers played on the football team which held the undefeated Kaukauna eleven to a 3-6 tie here Armistice day, with Kaukauna lucky to come off as well as that.

Tonight Neenah and New London are heavy favorites to defeat Plainfield and Weyauwega. If Kaukauna gets by DePere it will face one of these two teams in the finals Saturday night.

Miss Lorraine Poole, a junior of the local high school is a patient at the Community hospital, New London. She submitted to an operation for appendicitis Monday evening.

Lenten Thought For Today

Thursday, March 7. Give me a blessing; for thou hast given one a south-land: give me also springs of water. Read Judges 1:12-15.

Caleb's daughter's dowry of a south-land was no better than a dust-bowl without water. The springs would be pastures, harvests and vineyards; they were the supreme gift.

For there are gifts which carry everything else with them. The gift of a spring is the gift of all the water which flows out of it: the gift of a field is the bestowal of all its successive harvests. A cup of cold water is life to the thirsty and bread is life to the hungry. But the cup is soon empty and the bread soon eaten. What we need is the spring and the field.

When we give ourselves completely, all we are, possess or can do, go with the gift. The wealth of any cause is the personal self dedication of those who serve it. Life is never abundantly generous till love has released its power, and love is never perfect till it gives itself.

Prayer. Source of the Upper and Nether Springs of Life, help us to find the causes in whose service our lives are made complete, and having found them, so to give ourselves to them in wisdom and purpose, in dream and desire and in

LET THE PEOPLE KNOW

The official organ of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities impatiently comments that "the state administration has again refused to make public information showing the present financial condition of the state and the forecast for the immediate future."

Those conversant with the present financial condition of the state government, and acquainted with the intricate relations between the local units and Madison in money matters, will be inclined to sympathize with the League's demand for a factual statement of the treasury picture.

The fullest reporting of state and all government financing is always desirable, although not always granted. It is made particularly imperative today because of the extraordinary requests which the Heil administration is making of cities, villages and counties.

Twice already the state government has asked the localities to wait for money which is legally due them, and which they have anticipated in their own budgets. Today it is again asking for delay. Later this year the treasury will ask counties to accept payment on an installment basis of a huge amount of highway aids funds which the counties had expected in a lump sum on the date the law says it is due.

Now quite naturally municipal officials want to know how long such a policy is likely to be continued.

These requests are being made on the implied assurance that if the local officials will only wait a few months, all their bills will be met in full, whereas if they demand payment immediately, the treasury will be bankrupted and the whole state government demoralized.

Justifiably then, the local authorities criticize the state for penalizing them in order to avoid the consequences of failing to keep its own financial house in order.

What assurance have the mayors and county boards of Wisconsin that the same circumstances which now dictate postponement of legal obligations will not exist six months from today?

What guarantee is there that there will be any money in the state treasury at all, they ask?

Municipal heads have none, except verbal promises, couched in the vaguest terms, that if they only wait a little while all will be well.

Such assurances haven't had much effect, as we can see when the League circulates to the thousands of municipal officials who are members the statement that "the latest estimates that are available show that the state will end the current biennium some $12,000,000 short of being able to continue on a cash basis.

The demands of the League for a clear-cut, formal and public statement of affairs in the capitol is justified. It is unlikely that postponement of a few million dollars of state money for a couple of weeks will do any great harm, but if the state is broke we ought to know it now. It will benefit no one, least of all the stockholders, to hide the fact until next month, or next year. On the contrary, such false secrecy may only aggravate the severity of the measures which may have to be taken to return the state government to solvency.

THE HATCH LAW

Everyone who is familiar with the provisions of the Hatch law will be encouraged by the advancement of a proposed amendment which would extend the jurisdiction of the act to state employees whose salaries are paid in part out of federal funds.

The amendment has been approved by the senate committee on privileges and elections, and now goes to the senate. Since the house is expected to approve the amendment by a sizeable majority, favorable senate action will virtually guarantee enactment of the measure.

Inasmuch as this is the season of primaries and political conventions, a review of the rules embodied in the Hatch law is timely. The provisions of the law make it unlawful to threaten, intimidate or coerce a voter in a Presidential or Congressional election; unlawful for any administrative employee to interfere in such election; unlawful to promise jobs or compensation as a reward for political activity; unlawful to deprive of work relief, or threaten to deprive, any person because he supports or opposes any candidate or political party; or on account of race, creed or color; unlawful to disclose lists of relief workers to political candidates.

or campaign managers; unlawful to use relief funds or relief administrative authority to influence voters; unlawful for any federal employee, except elected officials and policy-making executives, to take active part in political management or in political campaigns.

A summary of the provisions of the law would be that it is intended to protect every government employee in his right to vote as he pleases.

Obviously there is no reason why the benefits of the law should not apply to state employees. In fact, the same rules also should apply to all public employees, whether federal, state, county or city.

HAND CUFFS OR HAND SHAKES

A good looking young woman twenty-three years of age has just been sentenced to ten years penal servitude in a Pacific Coast prison because in three years she took unto herself four husbands negligently, such negligence arising by reason of her failure to obtain a legal dispensation for each husband which consists of a divorce.

We are reminded of the similarity under the skins of "Judy O'Grady and the Colonel's Lady," when we read this item along side that of the Patent Medicine or Ten-Cent Store Heiress or someone else of the kind hell-bent for Reno. For the only distinction is that one gets a divorce and the other hasn't the money.

Whether a young woman serves ten years in prison or dances to the latest swing time orchestra depends not at all upon the viciousness of her mind or the cloudiness of her soul but upon a geographical adventure. If she has the price to fly to Reno, and the price to put up to a ranch on the outskirts for a few weeks, and the price to hang around the cocktail lounges in cowboy outfit, and the price to pay the lawyer, she is a lady and a good citizen. But if her father didn't make patent medicines or engage in some other successful commercial venture and she is a bit forgetful of the proprieties and marries a gob instead of a perfectly worthless Italian Count and the gob goes to sea and she looks for another mate then she has become a very vile creature and must be locked up for a long spell.

We must protect our decent people. The morals of our young shall not be contaminated by having loose upon our streets crude creatures who are so depraved they will not even hang around Reno gambling dens while their divorces mature. These crimes become all the more shocking when we observe that any woman going to Reno may take her next mate with her so loneliness will not chill her delicate sensibility.

And when the stern demands of the law are complied with she can hook up with her new sweetie and, like a rabbit running before a hunter, make a circle and land back in Reno again just in time to drop her last partner and take on another.

The moral is self evident; if you haven't the price you mustn't be switching mates. And that is the standard in the land of harems where a man has wives in proportion to his income.

THE LONG DAGGER

The last few weeks of the Long machine's life gave proof, if further demonstration were necessary,—that the outfit, in its methods and purposes, was as non-American as a cannibalistic ritual.

In the presence of an election the hand-picked lawmakers met and passed a bunch of special class enactments bidding in this manner for the support of various minorities. But the criminal trials had broken the magic spell and the old hocus pocus was no longer putting John Q. Citizen sound asleep.

But after the people had swept out of office those members of the gang still out on bail and it was clear that favoritism could no longer be depended upon Gov. Long brought forth his coup d'etat, the mightiest rear guard action ever submitted to defend the retreat of a political clan that by now had assumed the proportions of a disastrous rout. Long actually called a special meeting of the legislature for the announced and written purpose of repealing the law which gave the attorney general a directing influence over district attorneys akin to that existing in our federal system. For the newly elected attorney general had promised a further list of trials against the smaller fry and that he would put every thief and embezzler of public funds in prison.

The Long maneuver was as slick as slippery elm and as shameless as a pick-pocket in flight. It was aimed at impairing the machinery of the law in order to give every little chiseler and political faker a chance to run to cover, to fix witnesses, rehearse his story, mutilate or conceal records, and, above everything, obtain delay than which an accused person has no better friend at any time or under any circumstances.

Thus must the Long machine accept one more badge of infamy. For seldom in American political annals has a departing and defeated regime sought to spike the guns in the arsenal and dampen the powder.

But what a confession of guilt!

THE HOPE CHEST

A few odd spoons, a bit of lace,
A china plate bought years ago,
Set out into a secret place

The War Department general staff has five functional divisions — personnel, military intelligence, operations and training, supply, and war plans.

With a shy dream that was to grow
With time, to fill her life with grace.

Soon from the attic she must take
A chest to hold her mounting store
Of treasured objects. For love's sake
There are fine hems to sew and more
Household supplies to plan and make.

This nucleus of home will spread
Into small rooms that will unfold
Her heart and his. When they are wed,
These are the things their house will hold—
With love to keep them comforted!

WONDER IF HE TELLS ALL THE GIRLS THE SAME THING

BY PRESTON GROVER

Washington—A core group of New Dealers books Senator Taft as the man they will have to beat in November.

They haven't altogether kissed Senator Vandenberg out of the picture. As to the Michigan Senator, they doubt he has the steady pull in the stretches they credit to Taft. His radio voice has improved but, as they view it, not to the level of the Taft, who won a series of radio debates from Representative T. V. Smith, sparkling liberal.

As to Tom Dewey of New York, they say that no glamour boy from New York can match the glamour of Roosevelt and that anything less would appear third grade to an electorate grown used to such fancy glamour as the Roosevelt brand.

Quieter Country?

As a matter of fact, some of the New Dealers have begun to suspect that the country may be wishing for a bit of calm political weather. That is how come they write Taft into the picture. One of them analyzed him as "conservative, stumbling, hard working, friendly and perhaps a little bit dumb."

For a country striving for a quieter way of life than it has had in the past seven years, that combination, he said, might just fill the bill.

Incidentally, they haven't decided who from their own ranks will be the best man to stop Taft—except Roosevelt himself. They don't concede that Roosevelt is the only one who can stop him, or Vandenberg or Dewey, or Representative Martin, or Frank Gannett, or anyone else for that matter. They are just speculating.

Ship Mystery

We cannot pass without telling you about Lieutenant Commander N. W. Sharpe, the only survivor of the ill-fated cargo boat Cyclops which disappeared mysteriously during the World War with all on board.

Commander Sharpe, now in the press division at the Navy Department, explains it this way. He was on recruiting duty in St. Louis during the war when along came an order for a certain number of men to go to Norfolk, Va., for sea duty.

The commander lined them up one morning, marched down the ranks counting off the men in pairs and stopped at the next man to "This detachment," he said, "will go to Norfolk."

John Harry Fox of St. Louis was the man next to Sharpe. Before he left for Norfolk he gave his dress jacket to Sharpe in return for a pea-jacket and a short overcoat. Fox was put on the Cyclops. Only the luck of the count saved Sharpe.

The Cyclops went down some time between March 4 and April 15, 1918, in the West Indies. Not a trace of her has ever been found. Ger-many searched her own records after the war, found no submarine in the vicinity at the time, so couldn't claim credit for the sinking.

Navy men speculate that the Cyclops' slippery cargo of manganese may have shifted and flipped her bottom up before she could put out a call.

Just a Step Behind the News

By Dave Boone

I see where Congressman Dies is now in Miami beach making a probe, too. J. Edgar Hoover just got through with one there. Well, I suppose every probe has a right to see how it feels to carry out an investigation in a bathing suit at least once.

Dies is at a de luxe waterfront hotel where an investigation is always particularly comfortable, whether the trial is hot or cold. Even a clue does better in that climate, and a plot that is no bigger than a mustard seed in the morning flourishes and is 6 feet above ground by night.

Florida is a great place to find "reds" as you know if any of your friends or relatives have come back recently after staying too long on the beach. I don't know what Martin expects to find there around Miami unless he's heard a report that Stalin has some horses running for him down there or that the electric rabbit is linked with Berlin.

Anyhow Martin, be sure you conduct this probe with plenty of sun-burn oil and don't waste time looking for G-man Hoover. He wound up his probe as soon as he won the daily double.

Wall-Papers Topic at Veterans' Home Meeting

Waupaca—Miss Kezia Manefeld, Appleton, will discuss wall-papers before a meeting of the American Association of University Women Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Waldo Hanson, Wisconsin Veterans' Home. A pot luck supper will precede the meeting. Miss Manefeld will be accompanied by Mrs. Wheeler.

Miss Hazel Sprecher, Plain, Wis., has accepted a position to teach physical education and German in the place to be vacated by Miss Vivian Stinson. Miss Stinson's resignation will take effect April 1.

Johnny Olson, Milwaukee radio comedian, spent Tuesday in Waupaca at Atkinson's store. He was accompanied by his wife who formerly lived in Stevens Point and many of her old friends came to this city to greet her. A model T Ford, vintage 1921, gaily decorated, was in readiness for Johnny to ride about the city. A smoke bomb planted in the car caused the radio star some concern for a few moments.

Autograph books were in evidence throughout the afternoon and in the evening the high school band directed by Prof. Ernest Weber had several recordings made with the comedian.

Quieter Country?

As a matter of fact, some of the New Dealers have begun to suspect that the country may be wishing for a bit of calm political weather. That is how come they write Taft into the picture. One of them analyzed him as "conservative, stumbling, hard working, friendly and perhaps a little bit dumb."

For a country striving for a quieter way of life than it has had in the past seven years, that combination, he said, might just fill the bill.

Incidentally, they haven't decided who from their own ranks will be the best man to stop Taft—except Roosevelt himself. They don't concede that Roosevelt is the only one who can stop him, or Vandenberg or Dewey, or Representative Martin, or Frank Gannett, or anyone else for that matter. They are just speculating.

Ship Mystery

We cannot pass without telling you about Lieutenant Commander N. W. Sharpe, the only survivor of the ill-fated cargo boat Cyclops which disappeared mysteriously during the World War with all on board.

Commander Sharpe, now in the press division at the Navy Department, explains it this way. He was on recruiting duty in St. Louis during the war when along came an order for a certain number of men to go to Norfolk, Va., for sea duty.

The commander lined them up one morning, marched down the ranks counting off the men in pairs and stopped at the next man to "This detachment," he said, "will go to Norfolk."

John Harry Fox of St. Louis was the man next to Sharpe. Before he left for Norfolk he gave his dress jacket to Sharpe in return for a pea-jacket and a short overcoat. Fox was put on the Cyclops. Only the luck of the count saved Sharpe.

The Cyclops went down some time between March 4 and April 15, 1918, in the West Indies. Not a trace of her has ever been found. Germany searched her own records after the war, found no submarine in the vicinity at the time, so couldn't claim credit for the sinking.

Navy men speculate that the Cyclops' slippery cargo of manganese may have shifted and flipped her bottom up before she could put out a call.

Under the CAPITOLEDOME

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison—Make no mistake about it. There is being organized right now in Wisconsin a publicity campaign against the Heil administration's financial policy which will be hard to counter-act when the representatives of the present regime take the stump this summer.

It is an "anti-diversion" campaign, and all of the numerous interests directly affected by the governor's openly announced policy of taking highway money for general state purposes are falling in line behind it. Immediate objective will be to garner support for the proposed constitutional amendment which would lock highway receipts in a separate drawer, beyond the control of any governor or legislature, for strict apportionment into highway channels. That proposal has already passed one legislative session, but the biggest hurdles are yet to come, the 1941 legislature, and the popular referendum which will follow.

SUGGESTIONS

Talk with several of these highway men for a few minutes and their strategy is revealed. Discreetly and quietly they are helping an impression which is already strong in political circles, that nothing can prevent the enactment of a sales tax at the next session of the legislature.

A sales tax, of course, would be the best possible break for the interests concerned with the sanctity of highway receipts. A sales tax would raise funds in such plentiful amounts that it is improbable that any legislature would touch the highway fund—or any governor for that matter—for a good many years to come.

Moreover, at least one of the most active professional protectors of the highway fund has repeated several times that Gov. Heil agrees that the general sales tax cannot be further postponed.

That report would not be repeated here except for the fact that Gov. Heil showed plainly in the 1939 legislative session his attitude on the sales tax. The gross income tax, a sales tax under another label, was introduced under Heil's sponsorship and the executive office put up a stiff battle for it against a stubborn legislature, and finally conceded defeat.

That defeat led straight to the highway diversion policy as the only possible way to avert a treasury bankruptcy. Thus the highway interests' concern in the sales tax possibility becomes apparent.

FREE FUNDS

According to the best available estimates a 3 per cent sales levy, assuming only nominal exemptions, would raise around $25,000,000 a year. That would be enough to fill all state needs, including the new demands which will face the state government after the next election, and also provide enough to effect a substantial reduction in local governmental tax budgets. It would also free some $6,000,000, or more, annually, in state funds for highway purposes, and make likely a liberalization of local highway budgets. It has been pointed out.

Personal Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

HOW'S YOUR OLD HUSBAND?

A patient consulted a physician complaining of longstanding pain in the back of the neck and backache. In the course of his examination the physician prepared to make a rectal examination. The patient inquired what that was for. The doctor explained that very often such complaints depended on some such condition as internal hemorrhoids. Ah, but Dr. (a prominent physician) had only recently made such an examination and found there were no hemorrhoids. Nevertheless the present doctor urged that the examination should be made. The patient submitted, a number of hemorrhoids were found, injected, and next day the pain in neck and back had gone and did not return. How come? Well the first doctor relied on the sense of touch, and internal hemorrhoids are not easily recognized by touch. The second doctor used a speculum and saw the hemorrhoids.

At that, a good many doctors would miff such a case even worse than doctor number one did, for they muddle along on the guess-work basis, perhaps asking the patient whether he has had piles, and if the patient replies that he hasn't taking it for granted that there is nothing to be learned by rectal examination.

Internal hemorrhoids may exist for a long time without causing any symptoms which the patient attributes to piles. In any instances perhaps they never cause any serious trouble, other than a vague backache, "weak back," occasional touches of "sciatica" or "lumbago," as the patient and his indifferent doctor calls it.

As a rule internal hemorrhoids are painless unless they become strangulated and prolapsed — they "come down" as the patient expresses it. In many instances attention is first directed to the internal hemorrhoids by repeated slight bleeding, but in most cases of hemorrhoidal bleeding the patient may not notice the loss of blood until a state of anemia develops from frequent internal bleeding.

Aside from the numerous cases of "lumbago" in which the actual trouble is internal hemorrhoids—proper treatment of which promptly relieves the back lameness—neglected or undiagnosed internal hemorrhoids and associated minor rectal lesions are not rarely found responsible for chronic "stomach" trouble attributed to gastric or duodenal ulcer.

Mental depression occurs in many cases of untreated internal hemorrhoids. Physicians skilled in the injection treatment comment on this in their professional writings—"nothing is more pleasing in dealing with these cases than to see the depression being succeeded by a corresponding elation and relief after the first one or two injections of the hemorrhoids." I have observed that happy change in a number of ley paper manufacturers who want the oleo tax repealed.

Gruszka fought against the oleo tax during the whole 1939 session of the legislature, arguing that it puts a severe handicap on Wisconsin industrialists trying to keep their southern customers, and particularly the papermakers who claim to have suffered from retaliatory boycotts organized in some of the southern states. In his paper the lively politician-editor makes sport of those assemblymen who supported the oleo import through fear of losing farmers' votes.

Looking Backward

Gathering a large force along the Prussian border in northern Poland, General Von Hindenberg had begun a new movement southward. He apparently was intending to strike Przasnysz. An important battle had developed.

August Storck that day purchased the cigar factory of Henry Welter on Appleton street.

The pentathlon, the annual Lawrence interclass indoor track meet staged each year in the Alexander gymnasium, was scheduled for Friday evening.

February was the warmest second month of the year since official weather records were kept in this district, over 25 years, according to George Allanson, Menasha lock tender and official weather observer for this district.

Voters of the Fifth ward were forming an organization known as the Fifth Ward Voters club to provide a means of discussing issues of particular interest to that portion of the city.

The low bid of Welter Blake for construction of the Memorial drive curb and gutter was accepted by the common council Wednesday evening. The bid was $4,795.70.

THE DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY GO ROUND

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN

Washington—The Finnish minister in Washington received a letter the other day written by three Negroes in a southern jail. It began, "Your Majesty," and voiced the willingness of the three to serve in the army of Finland, if they could get out of jail.

To help the cause in the meantime, they enclosed a quarter, and ended with, "You can write to us in care of the sheriff, and we'll be here."

Mail trucks bring letters like this by the sackful every day to the Finnish legation. Some are addressed to "The Finnish Government in Washington," and one read "Finnish Government, Care of Uncle Sam, Washington." It contained a dollar bill.

The mail is so heavy that the legation staff has been increased to one of the largest diplomatic staffs in Washington. A year ago it consisted of three persons; now there are more than thirty. Expansion has required renting an additional building to serve as Chancery to the legation.

Sample of a recent day's contributions: Decorah Chamber of Commerce, Decorah, Iowa, $500; Moving Picture Operators Union, Fort Worth, Texas, $10; resident of San Mateo, Calif., $0.25; Finland Defense Committee, Doylestown, Pa., $1,000; Washington Paint Salesman's Club, $25.

These contributions are distinct from the funds being raised by ex-President Hoover's Finnish Relief Fund, Inc., and General O'Ryan's Fighting Funds for Finland. Latest figures indicate these two organizations have raised $2,000,000 and $500,000 respectively. The Hoover fund, as contrasted to the O'Ryan fund, is for the purchase of civilian supplies, but it has lately expressed willingness to transmit contributions for munitions.

GENEROUS TO FINNS

Everywhere members of the Finnish legation go they encounter personal goodwill toward their country.

Minister Procopie took his fountain pen to a shop for repairs. The charge was 25 cents. The shopkeeper declined to accept payment. "Use the money for the cause of Finland," he said. Colonel Por Zilliacus, military attaché, called in a physician when his children were taken ill. The doctor presented a bill, and said, "Don't send the check to me; send it to your government."

Despite all these expressions of sympathy, U. S. aid has been less than Sweden's. Total U. S. assistance, including the $30,000,000 from the Export-Import Bank, is around $35,000,000. Sweden has given $95,000,000—25 in cash and 70 in materials.

Note—The legation has received a tale from home of the boyish valor of Finland's famed composer, Jean Sibelius, who, at the age of 73, rushes out of his home near Helsinki every time Russian bombers appear and tried to bring them down single-handed with his old hunting rifle.

NEVER AGAIN

The biggest laugh during Senator Burt Wheeler's speech at the hilarious National Press club banquet, where nine presidential possibilities told why they should NOT be elected, was prompted by an unexpected sharp remark.

"I haven't a chance," the Montanan was saying, "because John L. Lewis is for me. Another reason is that I was the running-mate of 'Old Bob' LaFollette in 1924. Still another is that Norman Thomas, who is here with us tonight, supported me. If he should do that again this year I'd be sunk sure."

"Don't worry," drily called out Thomas, 1936 Socialist candidate, "I won't. I only support liberals who stay hitched."

Note—Scrappy SEC Commissioner Leon Henderson, a third-term booster, offered to bet Tom Dewey $5 to $1 that the next president "is not in this hall," but the young New Yorker smilingly declined the offer. Henderson had no better luck with any of the other aspirants.

Rated by the newsmen as the witest speakers of the evening were Democratic Bob Jackson and Republican Bruce Barton.

CENSUS "SNOOPING"

The one-man war which Senator Charles Tobey, New Hampshire Republican, is waging against "snooping" in the census questionnaire is winning no hosannas from the business world. Inside fact is that the two queries Tobey is gipping about—concerning family income in 1939—were incorporated in the questionnaire by Secretary Hopkins at the express request of business leaders, who want to get reliable statistics on local and regional buying power.

The last thing in their minds was to "snoop." They pointed out to Hopkins that the census could be a tremendous help in stimulating recovery by providing business with accurate information on purchasing power, and he agreed to cooperate.

Among the business leaders who urged the inquiry were Dr. Stacy May of the Rockefeller Foundation; Dr. Louis Dublin of Metropolitan Life; David R. Craig, president of the American Retail Federation; General Robert E. Wood, head of Sears, Roebuck and a director of the New York Stock exchange; and Noel Sargent, secretary of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Trade organizations that backed the income questionnaire were the National Bureau of Economic Research, National Industrial Conference Board, American Home Economics Association, Actuarial Society of America, auto manufacturers, labor unions, publishers and market analysts. In fact, there are few trade groups that did not advocate the questions about which Tobey is trying to raise a hullabaloo.

Note—In the senate cloakrooms, Tobey's crusade is attributed to jealousy of his better known colleague, Senator Styles Bridges, who has won national publicity as a result of his campaign for the GOP presidential nomination.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Dean Acheson, under secretary of the treasury in the early days of the New Deal, was offered one of the appointments as trustee of bankrupt Associated Gas and Electric, but declined because he could not give his full time to the job. . . . Certain powerful Wall Street moguls secretly approached Republican Floor Leader Joe Martin with proposed legislation to weaken the SEC, under the cloak of "helping business," but he sharply told them he wouldn't touch it with a 10-foot pole. . . . The economy drive in congress is being quietly used by big insurance and business interests to block a $90,000 appropriation that the monopoly investigation committee, which exposed their operations, needs to complete its work.

State Is Forced To Cut Interest Charges on Loans

Private Bonding Companies Have Been Luring Away Best Clients

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison—A new wrinkle to the old argument about government competition with private business was revealed today when it was learned that the competition of private business has forced the state government to reduce interest rates in its money lending department.

Because private bonding companies have been luring away some of the state's best clients, the state land commission has been forced to reduce its interest charge on loans to 2 1/2 per cent. The new rate will become effective on March 15.

The state trust funds now aggregate about $15,000,000—representing the proceeds from the sales of land grants by the federal government—of which about $7,000,000 is generally represented on money lent to municipalities, principally rural school districts.

Many refinancing
Because the money market has been low in recent months, bonding houses were found to be competing strongly for the municipalities' business, commissioners reported, particularly since the effectiveness of the 1939 law which allowed lenders to repay their indebtedness at any time, regardless of the dates of maturity of their notes. Many municipalities were refinancing, therefore, under the more attractive terms offered by the bonding houses, and the state land commission was forced to put its assets into less productive bonds, some of them earning only a little more than one per cent.

Although the one per cent reduction nominally means a loss of $10,000 in interest revenue, officials pointed out that the real loss will be less because more money will be loaned under the lower charge than on the 2 1/2 per cent basis. Earnings of the land funds are turned over to the state department of public instruction and apportioned as common school aid to the localities. Annual return in recent years has been about $600,000.

Six Students on School Honor Roll

Cited for High Scholastic Averages During Last Six Weeks

Six pupils of the Highland school town of Freedom won places on the honor roll during the fourth six weeks' period, according to Lillian Parsons, teacher. They are: Jane Woldt, Earl Woldt, Lillian Ziegler, Marjorie Bass, Donald Ziegler and Dorothy Woldt. Perfect attendance during the period was won by Woldt, Lillian Ziegler, Marjorie Bass, Kenneth Ziegler, Gerald Buss and Roland Buss.

The following pupils reported students perfect in attendance during the period:

Ballots Available For Voters Unable To Come To Polls

Persons unable to go to the polls in next Tuesday's primary election because of illness or because they will be out of the city on that day may cast absentee ballots, according to Carl J. Becker, city clerk.

Ballots of absentee voters must be mailed to the city clerk so that they will reach him not later than election day. The procedure used for absentee voting applies only to registered voters. An application for a ballot must be filled out, signed before a notary public, returned to the clerk. On receipt of the application absentee ballots will be returned to the voter. When the ballots have been received by the voter, they must be marked in the presence of a notary public and returned to the clerk.

IN 'BLONDIE ON A BUDGET'

Budgets, like marriage, are institutions. And who, Blondie asks, wants to live in an institution? "Blondie on a Budget" starring Penny Singleton as Blondie comes to the Appleton Theatre, Saturday. In this picture Blondie is busily absorbed in meeting the running expenses of the Bumstead family household, in convincing her husband Dagwood that she needs a new fur coat—cost, $200—and that he does not need to join the Swan River Trout Club (cost $200). "Blondie on a Budget" is a fairly accurate picture of the domestic difficulties of thousands of young married people. The budget and the burned toast, the husband's old flame and the wife's jealousy, and the trip to Reno that never takes place.

Heading this double feature is "The Man from Dakota" starring Wallace Beery with Dolores Del Rio and John Howard.

Johnson Says Nation Has No Modern, Even Usable Army

Editor's Note: During Westbrook Pegler's vacation, the daily column by Hugh S. Johnson will be substituted in the Post-Crescent.

BY HUGH S. JOHNSON
Washington, D. C.—Here are a few sketchy excerpts from the testimony of army general staff officers before a senate subcommittee on appropriations.

"The president's executive order . . . directed that the enlisted strength of the regular army be increased to 227,000 . . . national guard to 235,000 . . . total 462,000 or about what Finland had!" With the increase . . . we have been enabled to form . . . five new triangular infantry divisions . . . peace strength each, 8,500 as compared with 30,000 in World war, or a total of 42,500 men! "and also . . . corps troops, for one army corps . . . we have conserved manpower and have been able to conserve fire-power with modern weapons."

Question: "How many anti-aircraft guns will you have at the end of this fiscal year?"
Answer: "I would prefer not to put the figures in the record."

Question: "The statement is made in the press that the United States will thus have fewer anti-aircraft guns than is provided for the defense of the city of London?"
Answer: "I understand that there are 144 heavy anti-aircraft and 48 medium caliber anti-aircraft in the defenses of London. The guns we have on order will be delivered by September 1941. All of 48 will be delivered by November 1940. The 48 guns of delivery for the last 40 of a little over 4 guns a month."

Question: "How many new rifles have you?"
Answer: "We have got all five divisions equipped." 142,500 men, not all rifles. "I do not believe that the United States has the record."

Reminds That Press Has Already Cited Figures
Question: "Well it has all been in the press . . . that you have not . . . about 12,000 or 21,000. I want to know what that is so?" They are the rifles made . . . Here the questioner, Senator Burton, mildly questioned the answer. "We are getting 100,000 at the rate of 4,000 a month . . . we have on hand 24,000 or 25,000 . . . 142,500 rifles. By June 1942, we expect to complete these now on order. 149,000. This figure is a rate figure. All sources of less than $100 a month. It probably includes speed-up at the end. But listen to this."

Answer: "Right now in the Springfield armory the production is 2,200 per day, 66,000 a month—net 4,000. We have an order for 65,000 with the Winchester company. They will not come into maximum production in for a period of 18 months, but we expect them to complete the contract for 65,000 by June 30, 1942."

These answers taken thus unexplained are contradictory evasive and do not add up to make sense. If the rate is now 4,000 a month, by June 30, 1942, it would yield 132,000 rifles. Skipping the "200 a day" contradiction and allowing for a speed-up to get 149,628 in this period, that speed-up would be only 13 per cent on the average—and then yield only 149,628 rifles for a force of 462,000 men by June 30, 1942.

Asks About $16,000,000 for Listed for Motor Vehicles
Question: "Why $16,000,000 for new motor vehicles?"
Answer: "When we brought these five divisions into the field only 42,500 men . . . they had never been equipped sufficiently to reach their peace allowance of motor transportation. Divisions could not function as divisions, nor corps as corps."

This is the new streamlined organization which is going to exist.

up against—with a political civilian overhead. But if this column, ever needed any confirmation of its repeated assertions that the country is being kidded and that we have no modern or even usable army either in existence or in reasonable prospect—here it is.

It simply hasn't got the stuff. It isn't prepared to get the stuff. Right now, in an election year, there is such apathy or opposition to appropriations to modernize it that it probably will be set back another full year in the great "economy" drive. Billions for boondoggling but not enough for modern defense to equip one decent army corps.

American Women Healthier And Live Longer Than Men

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
New York—American women are growing healthier than the men, and their superiority is so great that in every decade of life, from cradle to old age, fewer females die than males.

A clear-cut surplus of women in prospect as a result of this trend, figures published today by the Metropolitan Life Insurance company indicate.

The superior ability of the women to escape death covers the present century up to 1937, the last year when data are available.

During this long period, the death rate of white male babies under one year old decreased 61 per cent; of girls, 63. At 20, the young men's death rate dropped 37 per cent; the young women, 65. At 40, the men were down 40 per cent; the women, 52. At 60, males experienced a reduction in mortality of less than 7 per cent, against 26 for the women. The women were ahead at the start of the century, and have improved their positions ever since. "In this situation, and in the absence of any substantial immigration," says the report, "it is very likely that the ratio of females to males in our population will show a continuing increase."

Tremendous social trends that may flow from such a female surplus are mentioned in a separate analysis of European nations where, due to the World war, there were for a time surpluses of women of marriageable age with a shortage of husbands. One result was a serious discussion of permitting polygamy. Another was marriage of older men to young women, with increasing divorce and a drop in child-bearing.

New London Woman Is Feted At Surprise Birthday Party

Fire department was called to roof fire at the farm home of Rahmlow, town of Center, at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. Only a small amount of damage was done to the roof from sparks presumably from the chimney. Several firemen had extinguished fire before the truck arrived.

and started out. In the hall I heard hear voices from the front apartment. One of the girls was singing, and as I went down the hallway I heard Mary Ann say in a shrill, excited voice:

"If you'd only tell me where you are, I'd know what to do last night I'd know what to do when he asks me still more things!"

KEEP STOCKING COLOR ALIVE WITH NEW INSTANT COLD-WATER SUDS!

Women rave how new type suds keeps hosiery colors keener and brighter. Not a soap and thus contains no alkali to weaken material and fade colors. An amazing improvement on even finest soaps and soap flakes because it makes big suds in cold water.

4 VIRTUES OF VEL NOT IN ANY SOAP:

- 1 INSTANT SUDS IN COLD WATER
- 2 NO ALKALI TO FADE COLORS
- 3 NO COTTONY AFTER-LOOK FROM SOAP-SCUM
- 4 NO ACID OR ALKALI TO IRRITATE HANDS

EVERY woman knows how tough on stockings, woolens, and all fine things. But here's thrilling news! Vel... the amazing new cold-water suds perfected by Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Company... does away with these enemies of fine fabrics.

Vel is not a soap. It is an entirely different washing principle. Vel is one hundred times as soluble as soap in cold water. Vel contains no acid or alkali to damage and fade colors and Vel leaves no soap-scum to dull colors and make silks cottony-looking. Thus, Vel is ideal for all fine fabrics, because it dissolves instantly in cold water to make mountains of billowy, cleansing suds.

See your stockings keep their delicate sheerness and fresh color amazingly longer when done in Vel's cold suds. See woolens and underwear regain bride-like freshness. Colored prisms ring with radiant sparkle. Dishes and glassware glitter with highlights. See for yourself that Vel leaves no ring around the bowl. That shows no ruinous soap-scum can stay in dainty things to cause cottony after-look. So, try Vel... the amazing, instant cold-water suds, today. Buy Vel today at any grocer's. Made and guaranteed by Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Company.

Movieland Its People and Products

Gale Page has a voice which 'makes friends and influences people.' She has been demonstrating that fact for over two years on the air in "Today's Children" when one of her myriad listening-in friends wrote to ask why she didn't go into the movies that she might be seen as well as heard. A friend wrote a script for her on the theme of a blues singer with screen ambitions, rehearsed her in it, got her a chance to put it on, with talent scouts listening, and a contract resulted. One of her most memorable screen roles was Emma, the self-sacrificing sister, in "Four Daughters." She is currently seen in a sequel to that picture, "Four Wives." And also in "A Child Is Born" with Geraldine Fitzgerald.

Baltimore—Dear Staff: Had I gone through Hollywood with a fine comb, and hand-picked my troupe of actors to take on this trip—I couldn't have improved on the present gang.

Olympic Brad, Edith Fellows, Helen Mack, Mary Healy, Peter Lind Hayes and Michael Whalen. What a bunch of regulars they are! Any suggestion for the improvement of the show and they're eager to try it. We've shifted our acts many times first this one and then that one, leading off. Makes no difference who gets the opening spot (which is not a good spot you know) she or he takes it uncomplainingly. They're all for anything that will make the show bigger and better.

Audience reaction is funny too. Every member of this troupe recognizes me, of course, can deliver. They're all gabbing plenty of applause. But one time Miss Healy will stop the show and the next time it'll be little Edith or Peter Lind Hayes. As for Mike Whalen, the producers had better get wise to the fact that he is a heart-throb.

Yes, it's really fun to road-show—when the troupe's right.

County Receives State Highway Aid of $7,282

Mrs. Marie Ziegenhagen, Outagamie county treasurer, has received a check for $7,282.38 from the state highway department. The amount includes $6,761.30 for January snow removal and $521.08 for January ice removal and dirt prevention.

Additional Mailing Service Provided at Waupaca Post Office

Waupaca. Because of the 6 o'clock closing hour of the Waupaca post office, later mailers have accepted the accommodations afforded them by the proprietors of the Hotel DuSable and the Waupaca Candy Kitchen and have deposited their mail at these places. From these two places the mail has been picked up by the taximan and taken to the depot where it is turned over to the railway mail car.

This condition has existed for a number of years, and apparently nothing could be done about it because a later dispatch than 6 o'clock in the evening from the post office would involve additional expense to the post office department for the additional clerk hire. However, when Postmaster Jim Carew was in Washington, D. C., at the convention of the National Association of Postmasters last October, he called at the office of the first assistant postmaster general and explained the situation which has existed here, with the result that an inspection of the Waupaca post office was ordered to determine the needs for additional auxiliary clerical allowance.

The inspection has been made and the report of the post office inspector to the department has resulted with a grant for the allowance of the additional service as proposed by the postmaster. A new large mail

Reserves Thrive On 15-Game Court Season at Neenah

Rockets Gain From 6 to 14 Pounds During 3-Month Schedule

Neenah—Statistics maintained by Coach Ole Jorgensen showed that the Neenah high school second basketball team thrived on its strenuous 15-game schedule during the 1939-40 season.

The young Red Rockets kept pace with the varsity squad in a 15-game schedule and won all of their games and the championship of the Northeastern Wisconsin conference. Despite the strenuous workouts during the 3-month period, every member of the second squad, which consists of mostly freshmen and sophomores with a couple of juniors, gained in weight as well as height. There were 14 boys on the squad.

Coach Jorgensen pointed out that despite the fact that these boys successfully carried out a full program of basketball, which requires stiff workouts against opponents as well as against the varsity squad, they were able during the period not only to maintain physical fitness but also to increase their physical capacities.

Weight, Height Charted
At the beginning of the season, each player was weighed and measured for height, and the same thing was done at the conclusion of the season this week. The chart maintained showed that every boy gained from as low as six pounds to as high as 14 pounds, while the increase in height was from 1/2-inch to two inches.

One of the larger players according to the coach's illustration, weighed 193 pounds last December and this week he weighs 217 pounds and also added two inches to his height. Another boy who weighed 119 pounds last fall when practice started, zoomed to 133 pounds and increased his height 1 1/2 inches.

This remarkable record, the coach pointed out, isn't peculiar to Neenah's second team but it is a result of all sports where there is a system of training with proper supervision.

Oshkosh Bidding For Transferred State Tax Office

Want Division Moved to Winnebago County Instead of Appleton

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau Oshkosh—Claiming that the Winnebago county courthouse has facilities adequate enough to satisfactorily house the division of the state tax department assigned to Appleton, a movement is being started to look into the matter to see if the division might be transferred to Oshkosh.

State Senator Taylor G. Brown Oshkosh consulted with Elmer Barlow, director of the state tax department to put in Oshkosh's bid. He quoted Barlow as saying that the present selection of division headquarters was only temporary and that the taxation department would look into the facilities at the courthouse here.

County Clerk Arthur E. Hedke stated that there are two large and unused rooms, totaling about 2,000 square feet, that are ready for immediate occupancy by the tax department if they see fit to transfer the division to Oshkosh, and that other rooms could be made available.

The senator claimed that Oshkosh was a geographical hub and that Oshkosh was fourth in amount of income tax returns paying $27,513 in comparison to $178,229 for Outagamie county, Winnebago county, he said is exceeded only by Milwaukee, Racine and Dane counties in the amount of income taxes collected.

Marion Homan Named Head of Menasha Band

3 Neenah Council Members Declare Their Candidacy

Neenah—Three Neenah aldermen, Andrew L. Andersen, Walter J. Buschey, and Edward W. Schultz, today declared they will seek reelection in Neenah's spring election Tuesday, April 2.

Aldermen Andersen, Buschey, Schultz Get Nomination Papers

Neenah—The city council set some kind of a record when its first regular session of the month, which usually lasts three hours, was adjourned last night at city hall less than a half hour after it got underway.

During the short session the council adopted a resolution authorizing the city treasurer to extend payment of real estate tax for 1939 to July 1 providing applicants file an affidavit indicating they are financially unable to pay in the regular time.

A recommendation presented by Alderman Carl Loehning, chairman of the streets, highways and bridge committee, that no parking signs on the N. Commercial street span be retained was accepted by the council.

The committee was instructed to investigate the matter at the last meeting. Alderman Loehning reported that the committee decided there should be as much room as possible for the bridge is narrow.

City Clerk H. S. Zemlock read a communication from W. J. Cable, division engineer for the Soo Line railroad stating that improvements of the Main street crossing would get underway early this summer. He stated that it is planned to remove one of the three tracks used for switching and improve the other tracks.

Finance Report

Alderman Edward Schmitz, chairman of the finance committee, reported that the city last month incurred 152 accounts totaling $10,872. The larger bills were for relief $1,795.08, street lighting $1,493.83 and workman's compensation insurance $1,152.79.

The council accepted the low bid of the Scotch Oil company for the purchase of 20,000 to 40,000 gallons of road oil at a cost of 46¢ per gallon. Justice of the Peace Elmer H. Radtke reported that total fines and fees collected in his court during February amounted to $73.05, and Justice of the Peace G. V. Lord C. Loehning reported that fines and fees collected last month amounted to $146.12.

The council voted to have the floors in the offices of the city clerk and city treasurer improved. A new floor covering will be installed.

Initiatory Degree Is Conferred on 3 DeMolay Candidates

Neenah—The initiatory degree was conferred on three candidates at a meeting of Winnebago chapter, Order of DeMolay, Wednesday night at the Neenah Masonic temple. The candidates were Willard Galau, Charles Krueger, and Edward Nash. At a business meeting preceding the degree work, the chapter decided not to send a basketball team to the state DeMolay tournament this year.

This will be the first time since 1926 that Winnebago chapter has not entered the state meet. Last year the team won the state consolation championship. The chapter may enter a softball team in the Young Men's league next season. Arrangements will be made by Ronnie Foth. Degree practice will be held at the meeting next Wednesday night at the Menasha lodge rooms. Plans for the athletic program also will be discussed.

Council Approves Affidavit Delay For Tax Payments

Neenah—The city council set some kind of a record when its first regular session of the month, which usually lasts three hours, was adjourned last night at city hall less than a half hour after it got underway.

During the short session the council adopted a resolution authorizing the city treasurer to extend payment of real estate tax for 1939 to July 1 providing applicants file an affidavit indicating they are financially unable to pay in the regular time.

A recommendation presented by Alderman Carl Loehning, chairman of the streets, highways and bridge committee, that no parking signs on the N. Commercial street span be retained was accepted by the council.

The committee was instructed to investigate the matter at the last meeting. Alderman Loehning reported that the committee decided there should be as much room as possible for the bridge is narrow.

City Clerk H. S. Zemlock read a communication from W. J. Cable, division engineer for the Soo Line railroad stating that improvements of the Main street crossing would get underway early this summer. He stated that it is planned to remove one of the three tracks used for switching and improve the other tracks.

Cast Is Selected For Thespian Play

Neenah High School Society to Stage Production in April

Neenah — The cast for the Neenah High School Thespian society's 3-act comedy, "Footloose," by Charles Q. Burdette, was announced today by Miss Ruth Chalmison, director.

The cast is composed of the following: Lauralee Ward as Mary Early, Mike Tomblis as Randolph Cunningham, Betty J. Smith as Delphine, Thelma Rausch as Hope Early, Ralph Christianson as Bob Early, Donald Koerwitz as Dick Early, Patricia Kruer as Emily Early, Robert Schmidt as Richard Early, Gloria Williams as Marion Walker, Virginia Morrison as Jenny Malloy, Donald Jape as Jack Milford, Richard Laursen as Buzz Daily, Nancy Drabum as Mrs. Forrester and Kenneth Ginnow as Sanford Welles.

Action for the play will take place in the early living room in a Chicago suburb. The play, the second one this year to be produced by the Thespians, will be given in April in the high school auditorium. The high school orchestra, under the direction of Lester Loehke, will furnish music.

Miss Helene Peterson is general chairman of production, and she will name production committee this week.

Daily rehearsals for the comedy will get underway this week according to the director.

Pastor Begins Series Of Services Tonight

Neenah — The Rev. Gerald C. Churchill, pastor of First Congregational church, will conduct the first of a series of three Lenten devotional services at 7:30 this evening in the sanctuary of the church. The theme of the three meditations for the Lenten season will be "Guide Posts." The church choir will present an anthem and Franklyn M. LeFevre will sing a solo. The other two devotional services will be Thursday evenings, March 14 and 21. Maundy Thursday services, March 21, will be marked by celebration of holy communion and a special devotion for new members. The services are designed to supplement the Sunday worship and are open to the public.

Neenah Woman's Relief Corps Will Celebrate Golden Jubilee

Neenah — The H. J. Lewis Woman's Relief Corps is making preliminary preparations for its Golden Jubilee celebration and luncheon Wednesday, April 10. Mrs. Whitney Skenadore, corps president, has named Mrs. Ralph Sues, Mrs. Frieda Herrick and Mrs. George Johnson as members of the program committee.

The corps voted to have its jubilee luncheon at St. Paul's English Lutheran church with the Ladies society of that parish serving the luncheon, when it met for a regular business session Wednesday afternoon in S. A. Cook armory.

The program will be held in the armory. Mrs. W. Hume, chairman of the executive committee, is arranging for the table decorations which will carry the golden anniversary motif.

Mrs. Harry Kamp already has designed the invitations which are topped by an embossed numerical fifty enclosed in gilt wreaths. The invitations are written in gilt. Gold timbales enclosed in crocheted cases will be among the favors.

One Charter Member
Among the cities which will be represented by corps members are New London, Appleton, Hortonville, Omro, Winneconne, Menasha, Oshkosh, Monroe, Milwaukee, West Allis, Lodi, Sheboygan, Baraboo, East Troy, Richland Center, Evansville, Viroqua, Fond du Lac, Lake Mills, Madison, Superior, Beloit, Green Bay, Portage and River Falls.

The only charter member of the H. J. Lewis corps is Mrs. Nina Hume, Reinecke. Mrs. Hume was with department officers and other special guests will receive invitations to the jubilee.

The entire membership of the Neenah corps will be members of the reception committee for the jubilee luncheon and program next month. The corps hopes to secure as its guest speaker Mrs. May Luchinsky, national department inspector, who is a resident of Monroe.

Motion for New Trial in Damages Action Is Denied

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau Oshkosh—Circuit Judge Henry P. Hughes Wednesday denied the motion for a new trial in a damages action brought by Emil W. Zinsner, Cranden, against Robert Zilske, Appleton. The defense asked for a new trial, charging that the $9,000 verdict the jury ordered be paid to Zinsner for personal injuries was excessive and also on the grounds that the jury was prejudiced.

The case grew out of an auto accident on June 20, 1939, about three miles south of Appleton on Highway 41 when Zilske in making a right turn from a side road to go north to Appleton, turned into the path of Zinsner's car which was going south on the highway.

Zinsner suffered a fractured jaw, a fractured wrist and other injuries which resulted in paralysis of the nerves of the mouth and chin, according to medical testimony at the trial.

The jury returned its verdict on February 1 of this year, holding that Zinsner suffered 100 per cent disability. The defense claimed injuries were only about 40 per cent but Judge Hughes, in whose court the case was heard, agreed with the jury and denied the motion for a new trial, ordering a judgment on the jury verdict.

Nobody Expects Hatch Act to Make Politics Clean--Clapper

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER

Washington—President Roosevelt has thrown his support in favor of extending the Hatch act so that it would curb the political activities not only of federal government employees, as is now provided, but would extend those restrictions to state and local government employees who are supported wholly or partly by federal funds.

Mr. Roosevelt's position is that, having applied limitations to one group directly on the federal payroll, it is only fair to apply the same rule to those who are only indirectly on the federal payroll—such as state highway employees who are financed on a matching basis with both federal and state governments chipping in to foot the cost.

Not only is there opposition in congress to this extension but some attempt is being made to rip the existing Hatch act to ribbons.

That piece of sabotage is led by Senator Miller of Arkansas. He would retain restrictions against political use of WPA and relief funds but he would take the halter off the remainder of the government payroll. He says the Democratic party will be ruined if the Hatch act is continued in a form that prevents political activities by federal employees.

Senator Miller sees no reason why a federal district attorney or an internal revenue collector should be denied the right to play politics. There is plenty of reason why such employees should be taken out of politics. Why should a district attorney, who has discretion to choose which prosecutions shall proceed and which shall be dropped, who determines whether an indictment shall be sought or not, be playing politics?

Why should an internal revenue collector, whose business is to handle income-tax and other federal collections, be playing politics? The further from active politics both of those offices are kept, the better. Neither is it desirable that the ranks of routine employees, clerks, janitors, stenographers and field workers, engage in campaign organization work.

Act Eliminates Federal Workers in Politics
Those questions were settled with passage of the Hatch act last summer, placing the whole federal service in conformity, so far as political work is concerned, on the same basis as the civil service employees. They are not restricted in their right to vote, or to have political opinions, or to express such opinions, but only as to active organization work.

The Hatch act permits government employees to attend political meetings, to contribute to campaign funds, to express their preferences as to candidates orally, by radio or in writing provided they are not doing so as part of an organized political campaign.

The attorney general's interpretation of the act forbids: holding office in a political party or political club; attending political conventions as a delegate; serving on political committees; distributing campaign material; serving at party headquarters or as poll watchers; running for office; and soliciting campaign funds.

Trick in Politics Is to Keep Heat on
In approving the Hatch act, President Roosevelt suggested that it be extended further to cover state and local government employees. He indicated that he thought congress could constitutionally prevent all of them from participating in political activity in federal elections. Senator Hatch is restricting his proposed extension to such employees as are supported entirely or partly by federal appropriations. He is keeping well inside the apparent constitutional boundaries. Probably some 500,000 state and local employees would be subject to these restrictions.

Nobody expects the Hatch "clean politics" legislation to produce clean politics. After all, you can't ask for miracles. Purity in politics is as elusive as a unicorn. Senator William H. Hays, Kansas senator once said: "an indecent dream." Besides it would be terribly dull. The trick is to keep the heat on.

H. W. Brooks, Green Lake, president of the Wisconsin checker association, was present at the tournament in the interest of the state checker tournament which will be held at Oshkosh March 18. Brooks played 14 men simultaneously, moving from board to board.

The meet was conducted by Lee Royer, WPA recreational leader, and L. Mackin, recreational leader from Appleton. A return match will be played at Appleton next week.

From France comes the first set of a promised flood of war stamps. The two stamps bear the legend, "Four Nos Soldats" (For Our Soldiers). The stamp illustrated, a brown 40 centimes plus 60c, depicts a soldier on the Western Front. The other, a blue-green 1-franc plus 50c shows a member of the French Foreign Legion squatting on the African sand.

The central part of the United States stamp commemorating the fifth anniversary of the Pan American Union's founding will reproduce a detail of Sandro Botticelli's famous painting, "Primavera," or Spring. The stamp will appear April 14.

"Primavera" depicts three feminine forms representing the Three Graces. In Greek mythology the Three Graces were goddesses who conferred grace, beauty and joy. Botticelli painted them with their hands clasped.

In the words of Postmaster General Farley, the Three Graces will thus symbolize "the bonds of friendship and good-will that exist among the countries of North, South and Central America."

The Union was conceived April 14, 1890, at a meeting of the First International Conference of American States gathered at Washington. It was resolved that "There shall be formed by the countries represented in this conference an association under the title of 'The International Union of American Republics' for the prompt collection and distribution of commercial information to Pan American Union.

Latvia's Coat-of-Arms
As an addition to its postage set Latvia has issued a 20-santim dark violet-red bearing the nation's coat-of-arms.

Panama's Bureau of Posts has released the advance illustration of the 30-cent black stamp bearing the portrait of Sidney Bacon Williamson which will be a part of the regular series honoring builders of the Panama Canal.

The stamp to be issued on April 15, will mark the 75th anniversary of the famous engineer's birth. In this set have appeared stamps honoring Blackburn, Gaillard, Goethals, Gorgas, Hedges, Rousseau, Sibert and Smith. Only one more remains to be honored after Williamson: John F. Stevens, chief engineer of the Isthmian Canal Commission.

Williamson, as a member of the commission, built the Pacific locks and dam. He died in 1938 after having been recognized as one of America's outstanding engineers.

Council Defers Purchase of Farm For Golf Course

Aldermen to Investigate Offers of Land Within City Limits

The city council last night deferred action on the purchase of the William Knuth farm, Calumet county, for expansion of the city golf course to permit further investigation.

The 87-acre tract of land was offered to the city for $11,745 and the option runs until April 1. Action was delayed to allow the council and the park board to contact property owners in the city and adjacent to the present course to see if a deal for the purchase of land within the city can be made at a reasonable figure.

The park board proposes to finance the purchase of the farm by a mortgage to be repaid out of golf course earnings and to use the Estelle Reid legacy, about $10,000, to improve the land for golf purposes.

The council's finance committee recommended the purchase of the farm but when opposition developed agreed to delay action pending further investigation. The board's idea is to develop an additional nine holes to provide better golfing facilities for municipal players.

Alderman McGillan opened the discussion by asking: "Why do we have to go out of the city to buy land when we could buy property within the city? The farm under consideration is flat and the board will have to build golf hazards. I'm in favor of a golf course but I will vote against buying land outside of the city."

Alderman DeLain said he didn't like to see the deal delayed and that "at Oshkosh when the city enlarged its course, business was more than tripled. The park board wants to buy the land within the city but someone was always jacking up the price just because the city wanted to buy the land."

Alderman Grignon maintained it was better to buy the land outside of the city than to take taxable property off the tax roll within the city.

Course in Demand

"A large course is in demand in Appleton," Alderman Franzke told the council. "I can't question the park board's recommendation. They have investigated. I have been asked why don't you buy this and that farm. They're all trying to sell their land and we can only buy one farm."

Alderman DeLain then suggested that the park board "dicker with the property owners inside the city to see what kind of price can be made."

Alderman Feavel said: "I'm not in sympathy with people who try to raise the price of their land just because the city wants to buy it. It's time they were shown we can buy other property."

Alderman Vanderheyden told the council he didn't believe the course made a profit. "I was worried about what would happen to business if the country went to war and all the golf players were 'shooting bullets instead of golf balls,'" Alderman Franzke said the net profit last year was $2,300 which was adequate to pay for the land in a short time while Alderman DeLain said "it's the only thing the city has that pays for itself."

$135 Per Acre

Alderman Thompson contended that the city could not even hope to buy land as cheaply in the city as the price offered for the farm land, $135 per acre. He said eventually the park board would transfer the present nine holes to the farm and that the present course could be sold, thereby putting additional land on the tax roll. He said it wouldn't cost the city a cent.

Alderman Egan, who was worried about the cost to the city to the council he would remember the course "isn't supposed to cost the city any money when the park board comes to the council for money to improve the course."

The council voted 9 to 8 to defer action until the next meeting. Alderman Keller was absent.

A finance committee report expressing confidence and satisfaction with the present audit of city accounts started another argument on the advisability of an audit by the state tax commission.

Alderman McGillan, who originally asked for the audit claiming many taxpayers want an audit by the tax commission, said he didn't know how the committee could determine that the city is getting an adequate audit. He told the council that a tax commission representative, who met with the finance committee Monday, recommended several changes in bookkeeping and indicated the city needed a tax commission audit.

Political Revenge

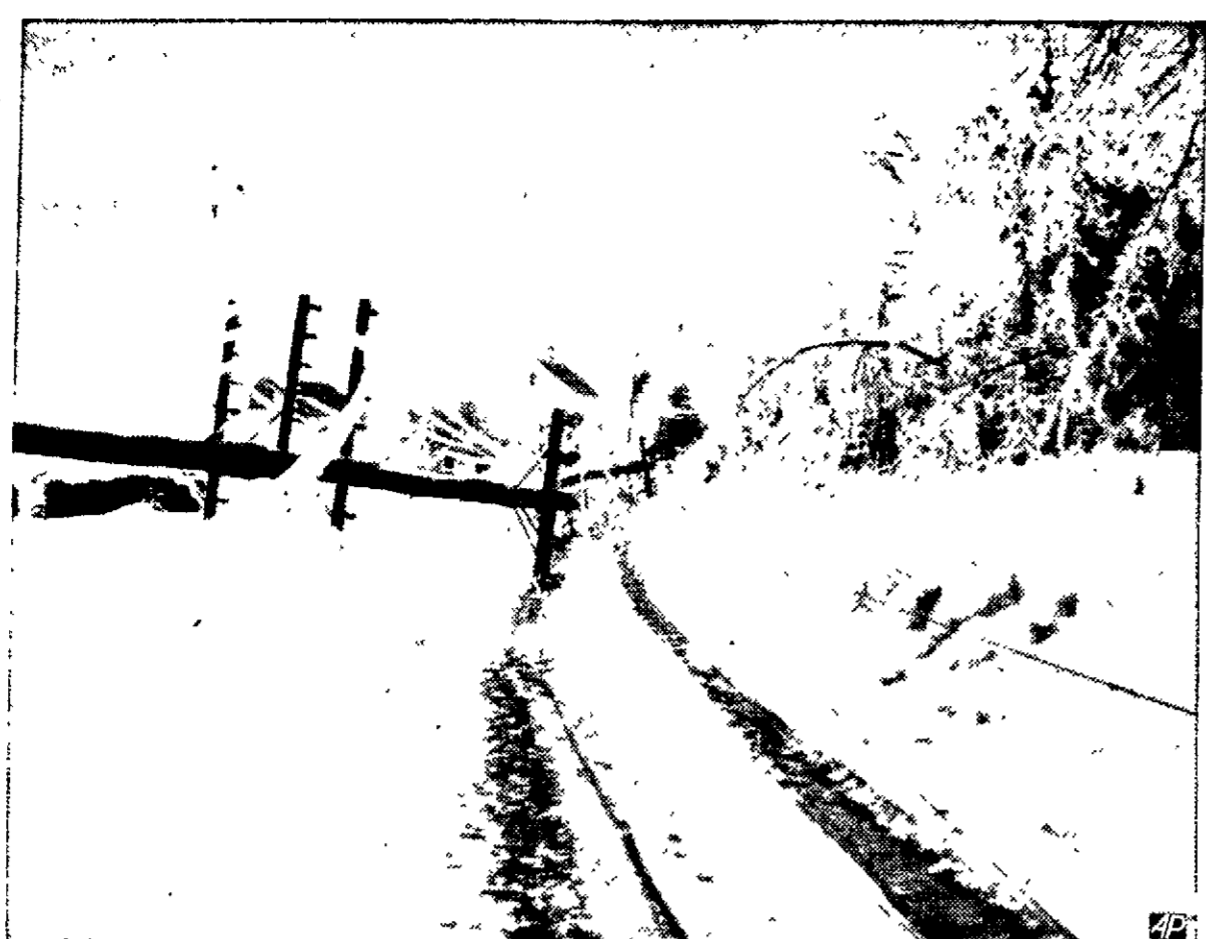

"The cry for an audit of city accounts is motivated by a desire for revenge by certain aldermen who have a resentment against city officials who appealed the aldermen's salary suit to the supreme court," Alderman Franzke said. "It comes from a bunch of disgruntled and petty politicians. I think another audit would be a waste of the taxpayers' money."

Alderman Franzke, chairman of the finance committee told the council the committee's report was unanimous.

"McGillan says the people demand this audit," he said, turning to Alderman McGillan. "Just who has asked me for an audit and I think I have as much to say on this council as McGillan has. Nobody has asked the mayor or any other member of the council that I know of."

"Pinned You Down"

"When we pinned you down in the committee meeting," Alderman Franzke said to Alderman McGillan, "you mentioned another auditor who didn't get the job. He has been contacted and he denies that he ever said anything about it."

Alderman McGillan then said that Rule, (Albert C. Rule, a former mayor) asked for an audit about a year ago but you were afraid of the mayor."

Alderman Franzke denied that Rule ever asked him to seek an audit of city accounts and asked Alderman McGillan: "Why duplicate what we are getting? Why didn't you ask for this tax commission audit last November when we let the contract for the present audit?"

These tax commission men don't know any more about it than anyone else," he continued. "They're nothing but a bunch of boys who went to school at the University of Wisconsin and learned all they know from the man who is making our audit this year."

Tax Roll Check

Alderman Thompson explained that the only thing the city isn't getting in the present audit is a check of the tax roll and if the public wants it, he said that could be remedied. A tax commission audit would cost an additional $90 and the city would have to pay for the audit it now is getting, he said.

"I question whether some of our aldermen ever have seen an audit report to say nothing about the taxpayers," Alderman Thompson said. "At least it would be embarrassing if a vote were taken to find out."

"Any changes in bookkeeping the commission might recommend would cost money and I don't believe we need go outside the city for auditors when we have competent auditors in the city," he said.

The vote expressing confidence in the present audit was unanimous except for Alderman McGillan's "No."

The council authorized the purchase of a lath from the Industrial Machinery company, Milwaukee, for $145 and a drill press from the Nelson Machine company, Green Bay, for $115. Both pieces of machinery will be installed at the sewage treatment plant.

The city clerk was authorized to advertise for bids on about 300 cubic yards of ready mixed concrete, 7 tons of reinforcing steel and 18 tons of structural steel for the grandstand under construction at Spencer field.

Action on the construction of toboggan slides at Pierce park was deferred until next September. A number of sports enthusiasts had requested $750 to construct slides this winter.

One ton of broom fibre for the city's street sweeper was purchased from the California Brush company at 15 cents per pound. The material will be used to repair the street sweeper.

Create Arterial

After an argument over a recommendation of the street and bridge committee to place stop signs at Roosevelt and Randall streets at Oneida street, the council voted unanimously to make Oneida street an arterial from Wisconsin avenue to the city limits. Arterial signs will be placed at all cross streets at Oneida street.

The Koepke Construction company was given a contract to furnish 15, 18 and 21-inch sewer pipes at 65 cents, 95 cents and $1.40 respectively. The pipe will be used on the city's WPA storm sewer project.

Requests for street improvements in Rivercrest addition, filed by Dr. E. F. Mielke, were referred to the

July Fourth Committee To Meet This Evening

Harold Stout, chairman of the Fourth of July celebration committee from the Appleton Junior Chamber of Commerce, announced today that the committee will meet this evening at the Conway hotel.

The Jaces will sponsor the celebration at Pierce park the evening of July 3 and all day of July 4. Other members of the committee are Ludwig Schink, executive secretary; Harold Aykens, treasurer; Wilmer Kreuger, publicity; Harvey Sackett, Jack Notebaart and Sylvester Esler.

involve acts or threats of coercion, intimidation or discrimination.

9. Apply the usual court rules of evidence to all board procedure.

10. Provide that, in court review of any board decision, the board's findings would be conclusive if based on a preponderance of evidence and unless they were "clearly erroneous."

11. Revise the declaration of policy in the Wagner act so that the board would not be encouraged to "unionize" employees against their will.

12. Forbid the board to reinstate any worker who willfully engaged in violence or unlawful destruction or seizure of property.

"Bargaining" Definition

13. Revise the definition of the definition of the phrase "bargain collectively" so that neither an employer nor a union would be compelled to reach an agreement or make counter proposals. (The committee majority did not touch on the question of whether a signed contract was necessary to show good faith in collective bargaining.)

14. Provide that the intermediate report of a trial examiner become final, without any further board action, unless one of the parties to the proceeding took exceptions to it in 20 days.

15. Exclude employees of farm co-operatives from the act's application.

16. Forbid the board to entertain any charge of violation of the Wagner act more than six months after the violation occurred and debar that back pay could not be awarded to any worker for more than a six-month period.

17. Abolish the economics division presently headed by David Sappos.

Motion Picture to be Shown on Conservation

A conservation motion picture on why the national farm program is necessary will be shown at 7:30 Friday evening at the Kaukauna High school auditorium, according to Joseph E. Garvey, president of the Outagamie County Agricultural Conservation association. Following the picture these attending the meeting will listen to a broadcast on the national farm program by President Roosevelt and Secretary Wallace.

"Let's Go, America" Shown at High School

The assembly of Appleton High school saw a sound film entitled "Let's Go, America" Wednesday afternoon. The first reel presented a kaleidoscopic picture of the mechanical progress America has made during the last century from the time of the village blacksmith to the automobile. The second reel, which starred Lowell Thomas, refuted the popular idea that the depression is caused by the machine era. Statistics pictorially presented proved that the machine has increased our economic want and so increased labor. A third film, "We the Driver," was a plea for safe driving.

8 Troops to Compete in First Aid Contest

Eight scout troops from the Appleton, Clintonville, and Shawano districts of the valley council will compete in a first aid contest at 7:30 tonight at Roosevelt school.

Milder Tonight, Weatherman Says

'Intermittent Light Snow' Forecast for State Tomorrow

Milder in Appleton and vicinity tonight, with "intermittent light snow" throughout the state tomorrow is the forecast issued today by the Milwaukee weather bureau.

The month of March added the second spring-like day to its week-old record as a bright sun burrowed deeper into winter's armor.

At noon today the temperature was the same as yesterday's reading 30 above. For the 24-hour period ended at 9 o'clock this morning, the highest mark in the city was 35, at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and the lowest 19, at 6 o'clock this morning.

Miami, with 82, and Wausau, with nine above, turned in the highest and lowest readings in the nation yesterday, the Associated Press reported.

Concrete Is Poured For Stadium Footings

Concrete for outside footings for the new grandstand under construction at Spencer field was poured yesterday, according to Alfred Wickesberg, city engineer. WPA workmen today were digging inside footings which will be poured as soon as they are completed. The grandstand is being built under a WPA project and will cost about $27,000. Walter Gmeiner, Appleton contractor, is supervising the work.

Hatch Sees 'Good Chance' His Plan to Broaden Anti-Politics Law May be Shelved This Term

Hatch legislation was returned to the elections committee "for further study." If carried, the motion would kill the proposal for this session.

"There is a pretty general feeling that this bill was hastily considered and poorly drafted," Minton declared. "It has a lot of extremely bad features."

Hatch expressed gratification over yesterday's vote, declaring that it enabled the Democrats "to go into the campaign with a clean record."

"If the vote had been otherwise," he added, "I am confident we would have lost hundreds of thousands of votes."

Despite Barkley's warning that Democrats would suffer if the existing law were relaxed, only one Republican—Senator Gurney (R-S D)—voted for the Miller amendment with the bulk of the southern Democrats and several northern New Dealers.

The Miller proposal was not the only one which created a flurry. Senator Danaher (R-Conn.) offered an amendment providing that a state-federal employee could appeal to the courts if the civil service commission decided he had engaged in political activity.

Decide on Roll Call

The amendment was ruled defeated on a standing vote yesterday, but Republican Leader McNary called the count "obviously erroneous."

While the house was debating the interior department appropriation bill, committees in both branches of congress were busy.

Members of the senate committee reported that a milder substitute would be offered for the Tobey resolution suggesting that personal income questions be deleted from the census. It was said the substitute would advise the census bureau that there "would be no objection" if the questions were withdrawn.

The senate finance committee will act tomorrow on the house bill continuing the reciprocal trade program. A close vote on restrictive amendments was expected, but administration supporters contended they would win approval for the original measure.

TRAVEL ON ELEPHANTS

The people of Thailand (Siam) often travel on the backs of elephants. The country contains between 7,000 and 9,000 tame Indian elephants. These elephants are not so large as African elephants, but are better suited to being tamed and set to work.

Wat Cheng, a temple in Bangkok, Siam.

The rider or "driver" of an elephant takes his place on the elephant's head. One or more passengers get into a "howdah" near the middle of the elephant's back. The howdah is a basketwork seat, and often is covered with cloth so as to form a tent of a sort.

Moving through the jungles of Thailand is somewhat dangerous. One must watch out for tigers. Although elephant travel is carried on in some parts, most of the people go from place to place on boats or railway trains. The country has many rivers, and they form the main "highways of commerce." More than 2,000 miles of railway tracks have been laid, and certain lines cut right through the jungle.

Thailand has large forests, which contain rosewood, boxwood, ebony and teakwood trees. The teakwoods are the ones most often cut for market. Teakwood logs are floated down streams to a river which flows to Bangkok, the capital city. Bangkok is the main seaport of Thailand. It sends more than a million tons of rice to the outside world each year.

The city stands on both sides of the Menam river and on islands in the river. Because of the waterways inside Bangkok it is called "the Venice of the East." Even Venice cannot match the water life of Bangkok. The people live not only beside water but also ON water. Thousands of families dwell in houseboats which float on the Menam river.

Many Chinese live in houseboats, but no large Chinese city has so large a proportion of the people in floating homes. There is a special reason for such life at Bangkok. The land near the river front is mostly low and there are floods. A family in a houseboat does not need to fear that flood water will cover them. In the low parts of Bangkok, people try to guard their homes against floods by building them on high, strong posts.

"Now that's what I call good coffee"

How pleasant it is to receive a thank-you letter ... one that praises your hospitality and reminds you of the enthusiastic words of your guests when they tasted the coffee you served, "NOW THAT'S WHAT I CALL GOOD COFFEE!"

"I always serve Hills Bros. Coffee because I know its delicious flavor will be praised by the most critical person. And it's no trick to make Hills Bros. Coffee—The Correct Grind works perfectly in any kind of coffee-maker. Just follow the directions on the side of the can and don't re-grind Hills Bros. Coffee. Re-grinding results in a loss of flavor, aroma, and freshness."

Hint of the week

Most coffee-makers produce best results when operated at or near full capacity. 2 or 3 cups cannot be made satisfactorily in a 6 to 8 cup maker. When only 1 or 2 cups are desired the Steeping Method is recommended.

IMPORTANT: Carefully observe timing for each method. Measure 2 level tablespoons of coffee to each cup of water. Vary amount of water slightly for exact strength desired and be sure to keep the coffee-maker clean.

WHEN USING THE DRIP METHOD: 6 to 8 minutes preferred. If less than 2/3 capacity is made, water will drip too fast, giving weak coffee.

WHEN USING A GLASS VACUUM-MAKER: Put upper bowl on after water boils. The coffee and water should be in contact 5 to 7 minutes.

WHEN USING A PERCOLATOR: Start with cold or hot water. Percolate slowly 7 to 10 minutes after steady pumping starts.

WHEN USING A COFFEEPOT: Bring coffee to boiling. Stir. Remove from fire. Add a little cold water and let stand 5 minutes to settle.

WHEN USING THE STEEPING METHOD: Pour boiling water in 5 minutes. Steep for a total of 10 to 15 minutes.

U. S. Is Prepared to Proceed With Probe Of Milk Monopolies

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau
Washington — Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., Madison Progressive, has been assured by the department of justice that it is ready "to go ahead with its investigation of monopolies operating in the sale and distribution of dairy products," providing house-senate conferees agree to maintain the $150,000 in Justice Department appropriations, which was added by the senate to the house bill.

When the senate appropriations committee recommended the increase for the antitrust division of the justice department, LaFollette was told that funds would be supplied for dairy investigations and, therefore, did not offer special legislation "for the prosecution of the dairy monopolies which have been acting to push down the prices received by the farmer and raise the prices paid by the consumer" as he had planned.

"Studies made by the federal trade commission," LaFollette says in stressing the importance of such prosecution, "have indicated that the prices paid to the farmer for his fluid milk are largely determined by the big distributors.

"These prices have also been subject to monopoly controls. The result has been that the farmers have been forced to accept low prices for their dairy output at the same time the big distributors have been exacting high prices from the consumer."

Simon Weiland Given Sentence at Mankato

Simon Weiland, route 3, Appleton, yesterday was sentenced to three years in the Minnesota state prison after conviction in district court at Mankato, Minn., on a second degree forgery charge.

Raymond P. Dohr, district attorney, who said that Weiland also was wanted here to face a non-support charge, may be returned to Appleton after he completes his term in Minnesota. A detainer will be filed, Dohr said. Mankato police stated that Weiland also was wanted on check charges in Michigan and Iowa.

Badminton Tournaments To be Held at School

Boys and girls of Appleton High school have been asked to register for singles, doubles and mixed doubles badminton tournaments which will be started soon in the school gymnasium. Badminton is practiced each Wednesday after school. In charge of the sport are Miss Carol Anderson and William C. Pickett, physical education instructors.

Veterans May Apply for Entrance in CCC Camps

Applications of veterans for entrance in CCC camps should be made by March 15, Edward Lutz, Outagamie county service officer, stated today. The next enrollment will be taken during the first week of April. About 40 veterans of the county now are enrolled in CCC camps.

Confucius Say: Where Crowds Go, Good Place Go Yourself"

Why do millions of thrifty housewives flock to A&P Super Markets every week? Why not follow them there and find out for yourself? See the way-low prices on grand things for your table! (Direct buying, doing away with unnecessary handling charges and middle profits, sharing savings with you — are what makes our prices so low!) Look at the tender, juicy, U. S. Government-inspected meats sold with a money-back guarantee; crisp, fresh vegetables, delicious baked goods, plain and fancy groceries, at prices to save you food dollars! Pack up your values in your free-wheeling market basket, put there to save your time! Go where the crowds go—save where the crowds save—at A&P Super Markets!

FINE QUALITY MEATS

All A&P meats are carefully inspected to assure you of high quality at thrifty prices. This week we feature pork, in co-operation with the Producer-Consumer "Economy Pork Sale" being held all over the nation. SERVE PORK—SAVE MONEY!

REAL ESTATE—SALE

FARMS AND ACREAGE

$2,700
Ten Acres of good soil, located a half mile from a main highway, about fifteen miles from Appleton. There is a good house, nice small barn with room enough for six cows and a team of horses. Other buildings include hen house, milk house and machine shed. The personal property consists of three cows, a team of horses, about 25 chickens, the necessary machinery for place of this size and all feed on the place. Would consider trading in a low-price home on the edge of Appleton.

New Nurse Outlines Plans For County Health Program

Waupaca—Miss Catherine Chambers, Waupaca county nurse who has been on duty for several weeks, has been familiarizing herself with the records left by the former county nurse, Miss Estelle Jung, with a view to making plans for the future health program of Waupaca county. Miss Chambers states that because of the keen interest and operation manifested in the nursing service by various groups and individuals throughout the county in the past, she feels sure of support in continuing the program.

Roosevelt Takes Hand in Problem Of Amending Act

Behind-the-Scenes Negotiations Designed to Quiet Opposition

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington—President Roosevelt has taken a personal hand in the problem of what should be done to amend the Wagner Labor Relations act. During his absence on a vacation all sorts of stories were afloat on Capitol Hill to the effect that the administration was prepared to kill any changes in the Wagner act at this session by the simple device of asking the house labor committee not to do anything about them.

Now, however, it has developed that a majority of the house of representatives wants to do something about it and is prepared to discharge the regular labor committee from consideration of the measure. If this is inevitable there is no sound reason from a political viewpoint why the administration should jockey itself into the position of obstructing changes in a law which has been proved in need of some amendment.

The CIO strategy, of course, though ostensibly in favor of amendments which would have the effect of making the law even more one-sided than it now is, really favors no change in the law. Much of the benefit that has come from the CIO organizer has come from the CIO's intimate relationship with the National Labor Relations committee to have actually participated in the framing of cases together with the CIO against employers.

The policy moreover of the labor board has been to go after certain large businesses while feeling secure that the small business men of America had neither the funds nor the energies to combat the attacks of the labor board and its ally—the CIO. The present drive for amending the Wagner act comes as much if not more from the small businesses of America which are helpless in the face of an abuse of power by the labor board scarcely parallel in all the annals of so-called quasi-judicial boards.

Chief Mediator
When President Roosevelt summoned for conference at the White House Chairman Smith of the house committee investigating the labor board, the impression that rose at once was that Mr. Roosevelt hoped to reach an agreement with Mr. Smith as to the nature of the amendments to be proposed at this time. The president in a sense became the chief mediator between rival interests because he knows the A. F. of L. will insist on amendments and he knows, too, that the house labor committee will not of course stand out against recommending changes in the Wagner law if the president so desires.

Mr. Roosevelt's influence will be important in the senate too where New Dealers have been inclined to credit recently the rumors that the CIO desires were those of the administration, namely that nothing be done at this session. The president, on the other hand, has been represented as somewhat weary of the whole labor board mess. When he appointed W. M. Leiserson to the labor board he had hoped the other two members of the board would see the handwriting on the wall and change their tactics. But somehow or other no change occurred and the same defects in administrative handling of the cases have persisted.

Mr. Roosevelt cannot very well order the removal of Messrs. Madison and Smith and put Mr. Leiserson in charge, so if he wants to effect a change in personnel he has to agree to an amendment to the existing law which would create an entirely new board.

The president has the power of veto over any amendment that might be voted by both houses, and it is doubtful whether the opposition has the strength of a two-thirds vote as yet to override a veto.

So Mr. Roosevelt is in a strong position to ask for amendments at this time which help employer-employee relations and yet do not in any way weaken collective bargaining. Representative Smith of the house committee, a Virginia Democrat, is emphatic that he does not want in any degree to impair the effectiveness of collective bargaining.

Mr. Smith has been trying to get a unanimous report out of his committee. There are two Democrats besides himself on it and two Republicans. The latter naturally want more drastic amendments than the chairman might be ready at this

Company of 60 to Play in Haresfoot

University of Wisconsin Musical Comedy Comes Here April 18

A company of 60 players, with a chorus of 16 dancers, will appear in the University of Wisconsin Haresfoot club show in the Appleton High school auditorium Thursday night, April 18.

The student-authored musical comedy will appear in LaCrosse, Wausau, Green Bay, Racine, Milwaukee, Madison and Appleton this year, according to Sydney Jacobson of Appleton, president of the club.

The University of Wisconsin organization is the third oldest college group of its type in the United States, being the Midwest equivalent of the famed Triangle club.

Specialty artists and an orchestra will appear in the show. The script, music, and promotion is done by students.

Driver's License Revocations Fewer In '39 Than in '38

Fewer Wisconsin Driving Licenses Were Revoked or Suspended in 1939 Than in 1938, According to George W. Rickman, Commissioner of the State Motor Vehicle Department

Last year revocations totaled 927, compared with 1,071 in 1938, while suspensions reached 1,384 in 1939, compared with 1,456 in 1938.

The majority of motorists who lose their driving permits have been convicted on the charge of operating an automobile while intoxicated, Rickman said. Topsy drivers constituted nearly 75 per cent of the total number of persons whose licenses were revoked and 44 per cent of the motorists whose licenses were suspended.

Reckless driving was blamed for 16 per cent of the revocations and 14 per cent of the suspensions. Thirty-three per cent of the suspensions were ordered against drivers until they satisfied existing damage judgments and established proof of their financial responsibility.

Nine per cent of both revocations and suspensions last year were due
